Vote Leave, take control

Every week politicians send £350 million to Brussels.

That's enough to build a new hospital every week.

Soon, there will be a referendum on the EU.

If we vote to 'remain', the EU will take more power and money every week.

If we vote to 'leave', we can stop EU law being supreme over UK law.

We can stop sending millions every week to Brussels and spend it on OUR priorities like the NHS. We can have a friendly new deal with the EU.

It is much safer to take back control than to keep giving the EU more power and money.

This leaflet shows how YOU can help. Please fill in the form and cut along the dotted line. Please then follow the instructions and return your completed form to our HQ. No stamp is required.

With your help we can persuade more and more people to Vote Leave. Please help TODAY.

Vote Leave is supported by leading figures in business, public services, charities, and universities. For more information on our campaign, or to offer some voluntary help online, please sign-up by visiting our website.

Thank you.

 Vote Leave

Eight ways you can help...

1

Delivering campaign leaflets

Delivering our message, locally, is absolutely vital during this referendum. We need volunteers to deliver leaflets to agreed streets in their neighbourhood. We need thousands of deliverers. Please do offer - if only to do your own road.

2

Door to door surveying

We need helpers to knock on doors and survey residents. It is a key activity within our campaign. Worry not - you'll enjoy it. You will get full training and find it both fun and interesting!

5

Fundraising events

By lending your front room for a coffee morning, or similar small fundraising event, you will assist the team in raising the much needed funds to help pay for the campaign.

6

Displaying a poster during the campaign

We will need a good visual show of support for "Vote Leave". Please offer to display a window poster or garden poster - or both. We are determined to have a magnificent splash of colour in every street.

3

Calling voters from home

This is just the same as surveying residents on the doorstep – except that you call them from the comfort of your armchair and armed with a cup of coffee instead. Give it a go!

4

Helping out with a street stall

Working with two or three other volunteers, street stalls are great fun. By handing out leaflets, and ever popular helium filled “Vote Leave” balloons in busy shopping areas you will help make a really big impact for the campaign.

7

Providing transport to the polls for the elderly

There will always be elderly or disabled supporters who find it difficult to vote in person. We need a volunteer force who will be kind enough to offer car lifts to ensure everyone gets to the polls easily and safely.

8

Other ways you can help

There are so many voluntary tasks other than those already mentioned. We need house meeting venues, people to fold leaflets, pop letters into envelopes and 101 other different jobs. There’s always something you can do to help the cause.

... invest in the NHS not the EU

Every week politicians send £350 million of our money to the EU. That's enough to build a new hospital every week. It's almost 60 times more than the amount we spend on our NHS Cancer Drugs Fund.

If we stop sending millions every week to Brussels we could spend it on our priorities like the NHS.

We will all get a vote on the EU in the next two years. If we Vote Leave in the referendum we will be able to spend a lot of that £20 billion a year on our NHS rather than the EU.

NHS Cancer Drugs Fund - £340 million, yearly

£20 BILLION sent to Brussels, yearly

... the safer option

Which is safer - a vote to keep sending hundreds of millions to the EU every week, or a vote to put that money into our priorities like the NHS and the Cancer Drugs Fund?

Which is safer – letting unelected EU bureaucrats decide how our hospitals should be run, or a vote to take back control?

If we Vote Leave, we'll be able to invest more in local hospitals and improve our NHS.
