The Registrar General's Annual Estimates of the Population of England and Wales and of
Local Administrative Areas

An annual publication issued to meet a general demand for the latest figures of populations of local administrative areas, county boroughs, administrative and geographical counties, standard regions and conurbations. The latest estimates of the population of England and Wales as a whole, by sex, by single years of age to age 20 and by five-year age-groups thereafter, are also given.

Price 1s. 6d. (1962 edition). By post 1s. 9d.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. New or recent changes in presentation

(a) Tables omitted

Table LL showing first legitimate maternities by mother's age and marriage duration; Table QQ showing legitimate maternities to women married once only in respect of which the mother's age, the year of her marriage or the number of her previous liveborn children were NOT STATED; Table RR showing infertility of deceased married women by certain causes of death; and the ages sections of Table TT have been suspended.

(b) New and revised tables

In Table A3 the divorced previously included with the widowed are now shown separately. Table H has been similarly modified.

Table F has been extended to include the numbers of marriages in conurbations and remainders of regions.

The form of the Constructed Analysis Section of Table G, persons marrying by ages and condition, has been enlarged and now replaces the version of Table G that was in use up to and including 1960. The total numbers of "not stated" cases distributed are shown at the foot of the table.

The Supplements to Tables P3 and P6, last published in the 1957 volume, have been repeated for 1961.

Various modifications have been made to the Fertility Analyses following the operation of the Population (Statistics) Act, 1960. Details of these changes are given in Note 5.

2. Populations

The estimates of population appearing in this volume and described as "home" or "total" populations, have the following content:

Home population—the population, of all types, actually in England and Wales, distributed by area according to residence.

Total population—the home population plus members of H.M. Forces belonging to England and Wales and serving overseas but minus the Forces of other countries temporarily in England and Wales.

3. Births

The births recorded and analysed for England and Wales for periods from 1939 onwards are those which occurred during the period. The numbers registered in 1961 are shown in the footnote to Table B.

For the classification by area (Table E), the births have been assigned as in previous years to the home address or area of permanent residence.

4. Birth rates

The national rates shown in Tables C and D are obtained by relating birth occurrences to the total population (before 1939, birth registrations to the home population; in 1914-19, birth registrations to the total population), while the rates in Table E are based on birth occurrences and home populations (see Notes 2 and 3 above).

The crude birth rates for local areas in Table E (col. 8) may not be comparable one with another. In the first place, the populations on which they are based may contain different relative numbers of women of childbearing ages. In order to eliminate differences between local birth rates due to this cause an Area Comparability Factor is calculated (as described on page 30 of the 1954 Statistical Review, Part III, Commentary).

In the second place, the crude birth rates for local areas may differ because disproportionate numbers of women of childbearing ages are in psychiatric hospitals for long periods, where they are not, in fact, 'exposed to risk' of childbearing. In order to eliminate differences between local birth rates due to this cause also, the Area Comparability Factors mentioned in the previous paragraph are adjusted so that they also spread the numbers of women of childbearing ages in psychiatric hospitals over all areas of the country in proportion to the non-institutional populations.

* Obtainable from Her Majesty's Stationery Office, price 8s. net.

The product of the crude birth rate and this adjusted Area Comparability Factor (col. 9 in Table E) is a rate which is standardised for sex and age structure—in particular for the relative numbers of women of childbearing ages—and, at the same time, makes allowance for the presence in or absence from the area of psychiatric hospitals with female patients of childbearing ages.

5. Fertility analyses

The fertility analyses in Tables AA to TT are based on information obtained under the Population (Statistics) Act, 1938, as amended by the Population (Statistics) Act, 1960.

One of the changes introduced by the part of the Population (Statistics) Act, 1960 which came into operation on 1st January 1961 is that the age of the child's father is required where his name is entered in the register, i.e. where the entry is that of a legitimate birth or of an illegitimate birth made on the joint information of the parents.

A new tabulation scheme has been adopted for 1961 and subsequent years and a revised series of Tables is introduced in this volume. All the tables (except SS which is based upon registrations) are based upon occurrences.

Table AA has been extended to include paternities and births by age of father.

In Table BB the maternity section and the sex analysis have been omitted. This table now shows births by age of mother, legitimacy, and whether live or still.

Table EE has been extended to include legitimate paternity and birth rates by age of father.

The analyses of legitimate live births (not maternities as in the previous series) by age of mother at birth, marriage duration and her previous liveborn children in Tables HH and II have been extended to include remarried women. Table II has been further extended to show legitimate live births to all married women by age of mother at birth and marriage duration.

Table MM, previously based on legitimate maternities, now shows legitimate live births to women married once only, at integral marriage durations (in completed years or months) by mother's calendar year of marriage, age at marriage, and the number of her previous liveborn children.

Table TT now shows maternities and births by month of occurrence and, for births, sex and whether live or still.

Tables CC, DD, FF, GG, JJ, KK, NN, OO, PP and SS, except for a few modifications, are similar to the corresponding tables in the previous series.

In addition the present volume contains the following supplements intended for publication only at intervals of several years:

Supplement 1 to Table AA.—Legitimate births by ages of parents in combination.

Supplement 2 to Table AA.—Legitimate births by sex of child, age of mother and number of her previous liveborn children.

Supplement to Table FF.—Legitimate stillbirths per 1,000 legitimate births by ages of parents in combination.

Supplement 1 to Table HH.—Legitimate live births to remarried women, by age of mother and number of her previous liveborn children by all husbands.

Supplement 2 to Table HH.—Legitimate live and still births by sex to all married women, by age of mother at birth and number of her previous liveborn children.

Supplement 3 to Table HH.—Legitimate male live and still births per 1,000 legitimate female live and still births to all married women by age of mother at birth and number of her previous liveborn children.

Supplement 1 to Table II.—Legitimate live births to remarried women, by age of mother at birth and duration of current marriage.

Supplement 2 to Table II.—Legitimate live births to all married women, by age of mother at birth and marriage duration.

The term "maternity" in these tables is used to denote a pregnancy which has terminated in the birth of one or more live or still born children, and the term "paternity" a legitimate pregnancy of the man's wife which has terminated in the birth of one or more live or still born children. The maternity record differs from the birth record in that multiple births from a single pregnancy are counted as one maternity, while for the birth record each child born is reckoned as a separate unit. The definition of a still-born child is defined in Section 41 of the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1953 as follows: "a child which has issued forth from its mother after the twenty-eighth week of pregnancy and which did not at any time after being completely expelled from its mother breathe or show any other signs of life".

In Tables AA, HH, II, MM and the Supplements to Tables HH and II the "not stated" cases have been proportionally distributed and included with the "stated" cases. Apart from Table MM the number of cases so distributed have been included as notes to the relevant tables. Cases where the number of live born, now dead, children, was not known by the informant at the registration of the birth have not been treated as "previous children not stated" since the current level of child mortality is sufficiently low to permit it to be assumed without risk of serious error that in these cases there were no such children.

The illegitimate births included in Table AA (b) are necessarily restricted to those registered on joint information of parents and for which there was a statement of the age of the father. Owing to the partial and possibly misrepresentative character of the information the figures have been printed in italic type.

6. Marriages

An analysis of marriages by manner of solemnization was included in the 1957 Statistical Review, Part II.* A further analysis will appear in the 1962 volume.

In Table F, the numbers of marriages shown for local areas are those solemnized in the area. Statistics are for entire counties including their associated county boroughs.

7. Marriage rates

The national marriage rates of Tables C, D and H are based upon total populations (before 1939 home populations, in 1914-19 total populations) (see Note 2).

8. Deaths

The deaths recorded (Tables E and SS) are the total registered (i.e., including non-civilians) in the calendar period, the time lag between the date of occurrence and the date of registration being usually only a day or two. They have been assigned to the area of usual residence of the deceased. Accommodation provided under Parts III and IV of the National Assistance Act, 1948 is regarded as the place of residence of persons dying there. Before 1st January 1958 chronic sick and psychiatric hospitals were similarly treated for this purpose but from that date the method of classification was modified, the main change being that a death in such a hospital is now assigned to the area of occurrence only if the deceased had been there six months or more. If the deceased had been there less than six months the death is transferred to the area of previous usual residence.

In some small areas the numbers of deaths may also have been appreciably affected by the opening, closing or change of use of certain institutions, so that figures may not be comparable with those of earlier years.

9. Death rates

The general death rates of Table E are based on total deaths and home populations.

The crude death rates for local areas in Table E (col. 14) may not be comparable one with another. In the first place, the populations on which they are based may have widely differing structures by sex and age. In order to eliminate differences between local death rates due to this cause an Area Comparability Factor is calculated (as described on page 57 of the 1954 Statistical Review, Part III, Commentary†).

In the second place, the populations on which the crude death rates are based may include a disproportionate number of invalids if there are certain types of hospital in the area. In order to eliminate differences between local death rates due to this cause the Area Comparability Factors mentioned in the previous paragraph are adjusted so that they also spread the deaths and the populations in chronic sick and psychiatric hospitals over all areas of the country in proportion to the non-institutional populations.

* Published by Her Majesty's Stationery Office, now out of print.

† Obtainable from Her Majesty's Stationery Office, price 8s. net.

The product of the crude death rate and this adjusted Area Comparability Factor (col. 15 in Table E) is a rate which is standardised for sex and age structure and, at the same time, makes allowance for the presence in or absence from the area of chronic sick or psychiatric hospitals.

10. Migration

Table S shows various data on balance of civilian passenger movement and migration.

Part (a) shows balance of civilian passenger movement and relates, with certain shown exceptions, to travel by all routes to and from the United Kingdom. It has been prepared by the Board of Trade.

Part (b) which shows balance of permanent migration, is also included in the passenger movement balance in part (a), and relates to travel by the long sea routes only. It has been derived from returns received in this Department under the Merchant Shipping (Passenger Returns) Regulations, 1960.

In parts (a) and (b) the United Kingdom includes the Irish Republic prior to 1st April 1923. Inward balances are shown by a plus sign and outward balances by a minus sign.

The terms "permanent migration" and "long sea routes" have the following meaning:

Permanent migration—a declared intention by the passenger to reside for more than a year in the country of destination.

Long sea routes—all routes other than those to or from ports in Europe and the Mediterranean and Black Seas.

Prior to 1961 "long sea routes" are defined as all routes other than those to or from ports in Europe, the Mediterranean islands, all ports in Turkey and ports in Russia other than those on the Pacific coast. The areas covered by the "long sea routes" were modified by the above-mentioned Regulations.

Part (c) shows the intercensal population balance by migration for England and Wales. This is obtained by deducting the excess of births over deaths (the natural increase) from the intercensal increase in population. Net gains by migration are shown by a plus sign and net losses by a minus sign.

11. Adoptions

The provisional adoption orders (see Adoption Act 1958, section 53) referred to in Table T4 were introduced on the 1st April 1959. These orders allow a person not domiciled in Great Britain to take a child out of this country for adoption.

12. Divorces

The figures in Table O have been obtained from the Lord Chancellor's Department. Access to the records of the Divorce Registry has permitted the compilation of the P series of tables.

13. Register of electors

Table U, compiled from returns received annually from Electoral Registration Officers, shows the numbers of parliamentary electors on the February 1961 Register for each parliamentary constituency as constituted at the date of the general election held on 8th October 1959. The numbers of votes cast at by-elections held on the February 1961 Register have been supplied by the Home Office. The 1961 acreages, which comprise land and inland water, for each parliamentary constituency, have been obtained from the Ordnance Survey Department.

The numbers of votes cast at by-elections held during the first six weeks of the calendar year are shown in footnotes to Table U in the preceding year's volume.

Table V, which shows the numbers of local government electors and an analysis of local elections, is compiled from returns received annually from clerks to local authorities.

14. International tables

Information for the completion of Tables W, X, Y and Z has been obtained from United Nations publications and from official sources.

15. Changes in boundaries

Areas which have undergone a change of boundary on 1st April are identified in Table E by an asterisk (*); areas created during the year are identified by the sign †, while areas abolished are indicated by the sign ‡. Statistics shown for the year for such an area relate to the area as constituted in the respective parts of the year before and after the boundary change.

16. Indication of reliability

Rates given as O indicate that the actual rate is less than one half of a unit. A dash (—) in any column indicates that there were no events. Where a cell has been left blank no denominator is available.

Rates based upon less than 20 events are distinguished by italic type as a warning to the user that the smallness of the experiences may affect their reliability as a measure of the underlying mortality.

Numbers

If d represents the deaths in an area and p the population in that area then, if d/p is small, the standard error (s.e.) of d is approximately \sqrt{d} assuming that the deaths are independent of one another. Clearly, the larger the number of deaths the smaller will be the proportionate variability. A deviation either way of twice the s.e. may be expected about once in 20 times. Using this criterion one might expect towns each averaging 20 deaths per year to yield in the same year numbers ranging between 11 and 29 without such differences having any statistical significance. Alternatively it could be said that if 20 deaths were recorded for a town, this number would have a 95 per cent confidence interval of approximately ± 9 , there being a 95 per cent chance that the underlying mortality is represented by a number of deaths within this interval.

If d is thought to be an extreme variation it would be more reliable to use as the standard error not \sqrt{d} but $\sqrt{d'}$ where d' is the number of deaths expected if some standard rate (e.g. the national rate) were applied.

Rates

The appropriate standard error of a death rate when d represents the number of deaths and p the population is where m is the death rate. The difference between two local death rates m_1 and m_2 can only be regarded as significant if it amounts to more than twice the standard error of the difference, viz.

$$\frac{\sqrt{d}}{p} \text{ or } \frac{m}{\sqrt{d}}$$

$$2 \sqrt{\left(\frac{m_1^2}{d_1} + \frac{m_2^2}{d_2} \right)}$$

Comparison of adjusted rates

Before comparisons are made, other known sources of variation (such as differences in the sex and age composition of the population) must be removed. If C is the local death Area Comparability Factor, then mC is to be compared with m' , the national death rate. The s.e. of mC is

is to be compared with m' . As already indicated, m' can be used instead of m in the calculation of the s.e.; m' has the advantage of itself having a small sampling error.

17. Definition of areas

London A.C.—Administrative County of London which consists of the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temples) and the metropolitan boroughs.

C.B.—county borough; M.B.—municipal borough; Met.B.—metropolitan borough; U.D.—urban district; R.D.—rural district.

18. Standard regions

The constitution of the standard regions of England and Wales used in this volume (with the exception of Tables F and M where the whole of Dorset has been included in the South Western Region) is as follows:

REGION I Northern	REGION IV Eastern	REGION VI Southern	Wales II (remainder)

20. Urban and rural aggregates

Urban and rural aggregates relate to groups of local authority areas by type (all those within conurbations, urban areas, rural districts) and, in the case of urban areas, by size of enumerated population at the 1951 Census. "Urban areas" include boroughs and urban districts as defined under the Local Government Acts, and rural districts are also as defined by those Acts.

TABLE A5. Total population, projections from 30th June 1961 by sex and age } England and Wales }
See explanatory note 2.

These projections have been prepared by the Government Actuary's Department in consultation with the General Register Office

Basis: Mid-1961 estimate of Total population of England and Wales (plus members of H.M. Forces belonging to England and Wales and serving overseas but minus the Forces of other countries temporarily in England and Wales).

Assumptions (1961 Revision):

Mortality: Death rates at the outset based on the experience in the five years 1956-60. At ages under 45 death rates declining steadily over the next 25 years until at the end of that period they are about one-half of the rates now being experienced. At ages over 45 the assumed rates of decline become progressively smaller as the age advances. It has been assumed that after 25 years the death rates at all ages will remain at the levels then reached.

Nativity: In view of the increased number of births registered in 1961 and of the allowance for inward migration now incorporated the assumptions made in the previous projections have been modified. The revised estimates give annual births of 820,000 in the year mid-1961 to mid-1962, an average of just over 800,000 per annum in the next five years, and thereafter a gradual increase to 960,000 at the end of the century. (Male/Female ratio 1.06 throughout.)

Migration: A net inward migration of 140,000 in the year mid-1961 to mid-1962, 90,000 in the next year and thereafter a net inward migration of 30,000 persons per annum.

TABLE M. Persons marrying in 1961, ages and conditions

England and Wales, standard regions, Wales and conurbations

Note. Within a standard region the separate figures for conurbations and remainders of regions are approximate, relating to groups of registration districts most nearly corresponding to the areas defined in explanatory notes 18 and 19. The mid-1961 home populations of these groups differed from those of the defined areas by the following percentages:

Tyneside Conurbation	+5.75	South East Lancashire Conurbation	+0.93	West Midlands Conurbation	+2.39
Remainder of Northern Region	-2.04	Merseyside Conurbation	-0.36	Remainder of Midland Region	-2.32
West Yorkshire Conurbation	+4.46	Remainder of North Western Region	-0.63	Greater London Conurbation	-0.32
Remainder of East and West Ridings	-3.08	Remainder of South Eastern Region	+0.89

Note: The deaths included in this table, as in all tables of the Statistical Review, are those which occurred in England and Wales. The numbers which occur outside England and Wales are not generally large enough to be of much significance except for certain years, e.g. for the periods 1914-18 and 1939-47 deaths of non-civilians and merchant seamen which occurred outside England and Wales are estimated at 577,000 and 240,000 respectively.

TABLE U. Parliamentary electors on the February 1961 Register, with numbers of votes cast at by-elections held thereon (shown in footnotes)

England and Wales, county and borough constituencies

Note 1. The Register of Electors 1961 was prepared in respect of the qualifying date 10th October 1960, and came into force on 16th February 1961. The figures are for constituencies as constituted at the date of the General Election held on 8th October 1959. The figures given in columns 6, 7 and 8 relate to persons entitled to vote at elections held on or after 2nd October 1961; they are not included in columns 3, 4 and 5.
 2. For constituencies whose boundaries have been altered by Orders in Council made since 8th October 1959, which become effective at the next General Election, the total electorates which will follow redefinition are shown in footnotes.

² Estimated rate based on demographic analysis of 1952-54 census returns.

³ Excluding Kashmir-Jammu, Junagadh, Manavador, Gilgit and Baltistan.

⁴ Data are for a changing registration area which in 1951 comprised about 90 per cent of total population. Data exclude liveborn infants dying before registration of birth.

⁵ Formerly Syrian Region of United Arab Republic (Africa); reverted to status of independent nation 29th September 1961. Excluding Palestinian refugees.

⁶ Rates computed on population including Palestinian refugees. Data are births and deaths registered within one month of occurrence and exclude liveborn infants dying before registration of birth.

⁷ Recorded rate. Estimated rates are 42 for births and 20 for deaths.

⁸ Excluding data for provinces of Phúoc-Thanh, Binh-dinh, Darlac and the city of Huế.

⁹ Including armed forces. Birth and death rates computed on population excluding armed forces.

¹⁰ Excluding service personnel and transients afloat.

¹¹ Excluding full-blood aborigines. Mean population.

¹² Including Maoris. Mean population.

¹³ Based on non-indigenous population.

¹¹ Before 1947 excluding territory ceded by Italy in 1947.

¹² Before 1950 excluding Yukon and North West Territories, and Newfoundland.

¹³ Births for 1951-54 and 1956, final tabulations were based on a 50 per cent sample. Before 1959 excluding Alaska and Hawaii.

¹⁴ 1930-34 rates based on births registered within 2 years of occurrence. 1946-50 data are estimates based on population enumerated at 1952 census and death statistics 1946-52.

Beginning 1951, data are births by date of occurrence but include an upward adjustment for under-registration of 8.8 per cent for 1951 and 5 per cent for 1952-57.

¹⁵ Before 1947 registration area of former British Provinces (about 75 per cent of former India, not including Burma), but excluding East Bengal in 1946. From 1947 registration area of the Republic of India. Data are for a changing group of states and territories which, in 1959, included a population of about 382 millions.

¹⁶ From 1945 Japanese nationals in Japan only. From May 1952 including Tokara Archipelago and from 1954 including Amami Islands, both acquired from Ryukyu Islands in 1951 and 1953 respectively.

¹⁷ Excluding full-blood aborigines.

¹⁸ Excluding alien armed forces stationed in the area.
