Dec. 16. 1930

My very very dear Friend. I thank you with all my heart for your lovely & loving letter.

I think of you every morning. For my custom is to have my breakfast early in bed, & spend a quiet hour reading before I get up & begin the business of the day. And I always have your beautiful shawl round me. & think of the dear thought & love that I know was woven in every stitch. With prayer & blessing too.

Yes, dearest comrade. I too hold my breath at this most critical moment in the history of the world. The way we act.

how with regard to the right demand of India will determine the history of the human race.
Not only are the Britain & India at the turning of the way - but the future of Asia is at stake - & indeed the future of the world.
I feel that you & many like you can do more by concentrated prayer in your seclusion than you ~~are~~^{or} anyone can do by throwing them selves in the political stream. The issue is now in the hands of the delegates to the Round Table Conference.

I wonder if Daisy told you about the wonderful speech we had from Mrs. Holme at the Commonwealth lunch. She is coming to lunch with me tomorrow, & the Undersecretary of the Colonies & the Dominion are coming to meet her. She is a most delightful woman.

I wish you could see the Play that is now being performed at the Gaiety Theatre. I know it is impossible for it (takes place later in the evening - & is not over till 11.30.

I am sending you the Programme to see.
The Suppase scenes are perfectly beautiful.
The writer Hilpid Wallis has caught the very spirit of the Movement.

Fred & I go to the country for Christmas next Saturday. We are having a sort of Barby & Joan Christmas - in our little home - with much love, my beautiful friend

Yours truly
Ethelred Lawrence.
