Dear Miss Norton,

Thank you very much for your letter. I am honoured to be asked to edit this exciting find, and it would be delightful if you could bring the photostats here and we could talk about how it should be done. If on the other hand it would be easier for you if I were to call on you in London some time during the next month I could very well do that; I come up quite often to visit one of my daughters who lives in Hampstead.

I don't think Miss Philippa Strachey need worry much about the picture of her mother in Michael Holroyd's biography of Lytton Strachey; it is a horrid book and I have talked with several people who agree with me that to read it is to see everyone mentioned through a distorting mirror.

I look forward to meeting you, here or in London in the near future. Please let me know when and where would suit you best. I am very glad the letters have been photographed, I should be nervous of handling the originals.

Yours sincerely

Jean Bennett.
