Dear Madam,

I am very much obliged for your very kind invitation to speak at the Women's Suffrage Meeting on May 3rd., but I am afraid it is contrary to my practice to take part in any public propaganda for Women's Suffrage.

My position is that there is no reason why Women should not vote if they wish to, but that the possession of vote is not in the circumstances of much importance to them.

I am,

Yours truly,

Hugh Cecil

Miss Boyd.
