

ON BOARD A GERMAN BATTLESHIP.

A fragment translated from the German of the play "Seeschlacht" (Sea Battle), by the play Reinhard Goering.

Sailors are turning in for a few hours' sleep. The fifth and first, who cannot sleep, try to solve the problem of their destiny.

Fifth Sailor:

These limitless waters

- the everlasting sky above, rouse the soul And nd leave us no rest.
- The spirit is awake when we look out over the waves And when the wind

Sings in the tackle.

What our country asks of us We must do, mustn't we?

First Sallor:

course.

Fifth Sailor:

it always right What our country asks of us?

First Sallor:

We must do what it commands, Because we owe everything to our country.

Fifth Sailor:

What do the very poor owe their country?

First Sailor: Much more than can be told In words

Fifth Sailor : Life is beautiful and sweet. Youth dances madly in the meadows. Then suddenly, at the beat of drums,

All is over!

Life is over

One after the other we go down before Death. For two years we have been cruising about here.

For two years we have been cruising about here on the water, Blind and mad, killing, and finding death.

Not one of us remembers another Not one of us knows anything, Not one can do anything But kill and die.

First Sallor: If our country demands it, so must it be.

Fifth Sailor: Dying is not so bad. But who are we, and who were we? . . . Why does our country demand?

First Sallor: Because it must be.

Fifth Sailor:

Might it not be that madness reigns Over a whole people? . . . Must we perform

What madmen demand? First Sallor:

We must

Fifth Sallor: What are ye fighting for now?

First Sallor: For the freedom of the Seas.

By Peter Kropotkin.

BOURGEOIS SOCIALIST

Ever since the Socialist idea began to sink into the minds of the workers, interesting the workers, facts have been obvious. The worst enemies of Socialism have realised that the best method of overcoming it is by pretending they are its supporters. They have hastened to declare that they, too, are Socialists.

THE

'But really I am also a Socialist, just like 1!'' they say. '' Social conditions, savings you! ' they say. ' Social conditions, savings banks for the people, the passing of laws for the protection of the workers—on all these questions I am absolutely of one mind with you! But, you know, we mustn't upset everything in a day, we must accomplish it out a down?" quite slowly.

These tactics have grown common during the last few years. In countries where there was universal franchise to was sufficient to mention Socialism at an election meeting for the candidate to declare that ne was an ad-herent of "moderate Socialism "—that is, of the Socialism of the Parliamentarian swindler of the people variety. Leading statesmen declared, more or less openly, that they were "Socialists," and that public opinion ex-pected from them the "solution of the social question "Ministers of all denominations were of one mind with them, and announced that "true Socialism." is to be found in the become of the Chrustian Church bosom of the Christian Church.

In short, they are all, all, Socialists! Usurers who speculate on the increasing price of bread in order to buy jewels for their wives; capitalists who allow their women workers to die of consumption and condemn the children of their workers to die from lack of nourish-ment; Social-Democratic ministers and police officials who execrate, throw into prison even execute the pioneers and heralds of free-dom and social expropriation; policemen who arrest and torture the pioners; elected per-sons who every day in Parliament tread Socialism under foot and do the work of the ruling class; all, all do these things only to hasten the "Triumph of Socialism."

There are really still Socialists who are stupid enough to break out into a scream of triumph at the sight of this farce!

We are saddened, and not gladdened, by is sight. It demonstrates to us, on the one this sight. this sight. It demonstrates to us, on the one hand, that the bourgeoisie has sworn to under-mine Socialism, and on the other hand it proves to us that those who formerly passed as Socialists now leave Socialism in the lurch. They act in opposition to the whole fundarney act in opposition to the whole funda-mental principle of Socialism, and join the camp of the bourgeoisie. Yet, in order to cover their sudden change of front, they retain the name of Socialists, whereby they bourgeoisify the whole movement.

What was really the significant fundamental idea of Socialism?

The necessity of doing away with the wage system, private ownership of land, houses, raw material, and means of production—in a word, of social capital. Wheever did not recognise this fundamental lifea was not considered a Socialist

"Do you recognise that it is necessary to do away with private property, and to ex-propriate, in the interests of all, the present owners of Social capital? Do you feel the necessity of living according to these prin-ciples?" Everyone who wished to join us was asked this question before he was greeted as a Socialist as a Socialist.

as a Socialist. Naturally, when one asked this question, one did not enquire if the candidate thought it necessary to abolish private property in two hundred or two thousand years! One did not trouble oneself about the idle question of what would happen in two hundred years. When one spoke of the abolition of capitalist private ownership, one recognised that this step was necessary to-day; that in all one's life, deeds and public actions, one must only work for that. Thirty years ago the Socialiste said (and those who have remained Socialiste work for that. Thirty years ago the Socialiste said (and those who have remained Socialists are still saying): "The next revolution in society must not be only a simple change of Government, which at best will merely be followed by some reforms in the Government machine: it must be the social revolution!

This means that it is necessary to prepare afforded by the next revolution—this was the basic principle of the Socialists; this dif-ferentiated them from all those who merely recognise the need for a certain improvement in the lot of the workers, and who yet somein the lot of the workers, and who yet some-times go so far as to admit that Communism is the ideal of the future society, but who will not in any case agree that one must seek to bring about this Communism at once, as the only way of liberating the working people.

All this has now changed.

On the one hand, within the heart of the bourgeoisie a nucleus of adventurers has been formed, who realise that without taking the label of "Socialist," they can never succeed in climbing the steps of political power. Therefore, they must find a means of being received into the ranks of the Socialist Move-ment without adopting Socialist principles. On the other hand, there are those who realise that the Dest way to curb Socialism is to enter its ranks, to corrupt its principles, to load its activities along the socialism. to lead its activities along false paths

Unfortunately, some Socialists, or some who used to call themselves Socialists, have desired to surround themselves with large numbers of people. Under the influence of such persons, whoever was prepared to pay the membership fee was given the name of the membership fee was given the name of Socialist. Party leaders, greedy for political office in the present state, hastened to open wide the door to alleged "converts," and to facilitate in every way their entry into the Party. Such leaders themselves discoved the basic principle of Socialism, and under their direction a new kind of so-called Socialists was formed, who have only retained the name of the old Party.

A Russian police official told one of our friends that he also admired the Communist ideal; but since that ideal could only become a reality in 200, or perhaps 500 years, our friend must be imprisoned in the meantime Party leaders of to-day declare that the to punish him for his Communist propaganda. Like this police official, the Social-Democratic abolition of private property, and the social expropriation of the capitalists, must take lace in the far-distant future : that Socialism s a romance, a utopia; that one must first of all concern oneself with "attainable re-Those who stick to the fixed idea of forms." ocialism they declare to be the worst enemies There can be no of the working class. "There can be no question," say these Social-Democratic leaders, 'of expropriating the land and in-dustrial capital of the ruling employing class. Do not let as prepare beforehand the acquisition of the factories through the workers, the land through the peasants, but the acquisition of the State and State power through the elected representatives.

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT

As if the bourgeoisie, so long as it remains in possession of capital, would allow them to try Socialist experiments!

The results of this turnover are at once

When one has anything to do at the prosent day with one of these new kind of "Socialists "-they call themselves Social Democrats-one no longer knows whether one is speaking to a gentleman like the police official or to a real Socialist. .t is sufficient to agree that one day—it may be in a thousand years-every empire will be in common ownership, and that in the meantin ownership, and that in the mentatime one will give one's vote to someone who will advocate in Parliament the shortening of the working hours and other little reforms. Thus the difference between the Socialism of the aforeamed police officer and Messrs, the Social-Democrats disappears. They are both Socialists! The worker who has not time to study thirty newspapers all at once becomes confused, and no longer knows where his Party comrades and where his enemies are be found. That is why to-day he must ndergo such hard probings and blood-lettings Before he recognises who are his friends and who are his enemies he will not arrive at on understanding of the position

AN EXTRACT FROM SPILLER.

NEW METHODS OF SCIENTIFIC PROCEDURE, 1922.

(c) Since the civilised state is an environmental datum, a human being if left to him or herself, or with others who are completely uncultured, would not be appreciably more cultured than are the other highly intelligent

(d) Man, because he is a specio-psychic being, is, in propitious circumstances, capable of assimulating virtually the substance of any civilisation, however advanced.

(e) Since man's self-culturability is virtually zero, and his capacity for being cul-tured is virtually infinite, there is virtually an infinite distance between the minimally and maximally cultured man, and consequently any difference between any two dividuals in respect of being cultured (Zulu in his kraal, or professor in his chair) are traceable, first and foremost, to the circum-stances in which they are placed, which is equivalent to stating that human beings are by birth, and because they are mentally dependent beings, almost indefinitely ore like than unlike each other morally, intellectually, and practically, etc.

To summarise. Our interim statement involves that since culture is a progressive pan-human product, humanity is capable of achieving in the course of the ages virtually everything; the individual, as such, nothing; and accordingly our theoretical aim is satis-fied when we learn that all mora', intellectual nd practical distinctions between colour and race of peoples or persons are for all intents.

ECHOES FROM AIPOTU.

A wide, well-kept road, bordered by flowerbeds and fruit-trees, with seats at intervals. A Bishop, in old and dusty clothes, is seated in the sun.

A stout lady, of uncertain age, with golden hair, is coming slowly along the road. She is dressed richly, with considerable scantiness and many jewels, but she wears a pair of very high-heeled shoes; and through her almost transparent dress shows an old pair f corsets several bones of which are broken She bears herself haughtily, unaware that her dress is fastened crookedly at the back. She takes out a powder-puff and a pocket-mirror and turns aside to adjust her facial toilet before approaching the Bishop.

The Bishop: Sit down, madam. I observe that, like myself, you decline to habituate yourself to this unholy state.

Mrs. Grundy (presenting her card): Indeed, my lord, it is a blessing to meet one of your cloth. You are the first minister of he Church I have seen for ages.

The Bishop: Alas! my colleagues are fast deserting the faith, and even I must cease bear sartorial witness presently. I impossible to get more clothes of I find the epted pattern. These I am wearing are offcasts of a backslider. The clothing ccepted pattern. soviets refuse to supply clerical dress. The clouding the cloud of the peared with my petition, jeered at me in most unseemly fashion. I was actually told that if I wanted that sort of garments I should learn to make them myself. The chairman said the nearest thing they could do for me was a Russian blouse or a Norfolk suit of Harris tweed.

Mrs. Grundy: What impudence! Neither eligion nor morality are respected nowadays am driven to use tooth-powder for my face cannot procure further supplies of the sort shoes to which I am accustomed, neither of shoes to which I am accustomed, heither can I get corsets. The unsexed women of to-day don't wear them. They say their bodies are too muscular to require support— brazen creatures! Veils they won't wear, so none are made; my last I was obliged to discard yesterday. Maids are unobtainable; the lower orders have simply disappeared. Both religion and morality are abandoned! There is no protection for virginity-no economic check upon procreation, no conventions, not a single example of those egrettable but necessary institutions termed ' houses of ill-fame.'' Your lordship will agree with me that they are necessary to pro tect the virtuous, however much we may deplore it. What is the result? How many do we find now of the mature maiden ladies who were so common in our youth? few of them. And those that exist? Vor Are passing their lives in that genteel retire ment in which they were so observant of my recepts? On the contrary, they are rushing into work all unsuited to a proper woman-hood. They have become blue stockings and mechanics! Degraded tomboys! As to the women who become mothers, not content with discarding the legal tie, they refuse to large families. The lower orders, who are so necessary to the maintenance of a upper class-as I said before-have ceased to exist! It is a monstrous state of affairs! My business is ruined. I haven't a client left

The Bishop: You have my sympathy madam. I was always one of your devotees, for I recognised your immense worth to society, your great influence in preserving respect for morality and religion also-to a lesser extent, no doubt; morality was your first care, but yours was also a religious in-fluence, and an important one; but for you the churches would have closed long before they did, for the women would have taken to reading serious works instead of problem novels

But you have aroused my curiosity. I am sure you will pardon me. I had not recogdue to specio-cultural and not inborn causes, pised you as a fellow professional. I had boy and girl who are picking cherries.

thought your services were voluntary. the proprieties. I had thought you a lady of the proprieties. I had thought you a lady o private means—purely repaid for your ser prompted entirely by your exalted zeal is vices by the interest of the thing. It brough you into contact with so much that was de lightfully spicy. Come, now, even a lady your rigid principle must have appreciat. There was always a seat in Court fo you in the "cause celèbre "-your pre sence was rightly considered indispensable And what secrets you got to know! But pardon me, if you would just explain how the rofessional remuneration was arranged. ever remember to have come in contact wit that-er-that aspect of the case.

Mrs. Grundy: I acted in every instance from a sense of duty. I was in no sense dependent on my profession—please do not think that; indeed, I had an assured income from the National Debt and a number of othe solid enterprises; such noted munition firm as Vickers and Beardmores, beside a number of those protective institutions in which am so much interested—that little ventur of Sir E—, the Piccadilly place of Mis Queenie G., and ever so many others. course, as time went on I increased my hold ings in the more stable concerns. I had m flutter in oil, too. Yes, I had my little stake both in Royal Dutch, Shell and in Persians

As to my own profession, of course it wa altogether delicate and confidential. Cha peronage was one big branch of it. Aspirants o social entry requiring the services of titled chaperone, and commission to be o tained for the introductions ; society wom requiring discreet chaperones with the virtue of deaf mutes. Matrimonial introductio overed another large field. Divorces, inf delities and indiscretions past and present. cluding confidential intelligence and priva detective work, of course. That branch ke ne busiest. It was necessary that the bond of matrimony should be preserved by allow ing reasonable latitude, and those relaxation which I was always ready to facilitate proper circumstances, as well as through the loophole of the Divorce Court. It was neces sary that scandal, exposure, and divord should be applied in appropriate instance with or without social ostracism, as the cas might be. Otherwise, society would have ignored the marriage laws altogether. course I had my special arrangements for middle and lower classes, graduated in accordance with their income and social function One had to be stricter with the lower orde If. in my judgment, they aped their soc too closely, the Courts were alway most obliging in reinforcing my authority eting out sentence for perjury or some oth misdemeanour I assure you I was a ma stay of the Courts in many ways. T learned profession fully recognised r

The Bishop: I understand you, madam vours has been a valuable work.

Mrs. Grundy: There is no sense of poss sion now; it is altogether lost. The leg contract is dispensed with. Even jealou scarcely exists, and curiosity, except purely scientific questions, has becom extinct. People have actually ceased to i terest themselves in other people's prive affairs. Tell a young woman that her frien has lived with half-a-dozen men, she mere yawns at you and says: "Of course, she's clever; I don't wonder that lots of peop want to be with her, but I'm not the le bit interested in other people's business.

Inform a woman that the man she u to live with has found another partner. answers: "I know: I'm sure they'll awfully happy! We drifted apart, you kno I'm so glad he's found someone else." Peop thought more of a scandal than anything one time; but now----- Upon my wo Look at those children! Inhibitory train doesn't exist in this degraded world!

Mrs Grundy rushes across the road t

sn't belong to you! I shall fetch a police-Inen

What's a policeman? You are Boy: unny! What do you mean by belong ?? the trees belong to everyone, I should say; mless they belong to the earth, where they Girl: Why shouldn't we pick cherries? There are plenty for everyone who comes here. Even the birds have more than they ant; they just take bites out of a few perries and then leave them! vant:

The Bishop: God sees all, my child; nothing you do is hidden from his vengeance. ot fall into the sin of gluttony.

Boy: I'd be ill if I eat too many; is that that you mean?

ound her waist.

the fathers!

Boy and girl run away laughing.

before that distinguished body?

The Bishop (taking out his watch) : I must surry away to keep an appointment to appear before the Central Executive Committee of the Society for the Compensation of Private Enterprise and Ownership. May 1 suggest, madam, that you should also lay your case

Mrs. Grundy: With pleasure, my lord.

Curtain.

nger

Girl: He doesn't mean anything: he's talking about some old mythology that people ised to believe. He must be practising to act in a play. I'm sorry I didn't understand you at first, comrade. What funny old clothes ou've got; are they for the play? (Whis-ers to the boy, giggling): Why has he got is collar back to front? She's got cottonels under her feet and something funny first. The Bishop (raising his hands): The sins great mi Mrs. Grundy: Be off, you insolent girl! ments. The Girl: We don't want to stay any that the Church and morality take precedence until I am co-opted on to the Committee.

Mr. Henderson: I have always kept .n I have touch with the religious element. probably spoken at more Brotherhood meetngs and P.S.A.s than anyone in the country. always endeavoured to maintain peaceful relations between Capital and Labour and to Dampfboot." This is the only paper which buttress the old order. At the same time, 1 gets here at all early. "Vorwaerts" is buttress the old order. At the same time, I recognise our inability to use anything more than moral suasion at the present time. I propose a deputation.

П. The board-room of the Central Executive ommittee for the Compensation of Private Enterprise and Ownership. At a table: Mr. Ramsay Macdonald (chairman), Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Snowden, Messrs. J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson, and Clynes, Lloyd George, Lady Waldorf Astor, and Lord Curzon.

In the visitors' seats: Lord Robert Cecil and Mr. Winston Churchill.

Mr. Snowden rises: I beg to move that the abolition of Capitalism without compensation to private ownership and enterprise was an outrage which cannot be sufficiently condemned, and for which there must now b suitable redress. There are some 80,000 persons who used to pay super-tax on incomes over £2,000 year. All these, and many over £2,000 year. All these, and many more, have no doubt been deprived of rent interest and profit. They should all be compensated in some way. Mr. Sidney Webb: The compensation will amount to a very large sum. It will require the appointment of many assessors.

Mrs. Webb: A state of society in which there is no private property was hitherto in-conceivable. It is therefore impolitic, and conceivable. must be so modified as to re-admit the principle and practice of living by owning.

Mr. Webb: Parliamentary government must be re-established.

Mr. J. H. Thomas: The Monarchy must be re-established, but the position of the railway companies must be assured first.

Enter the Bishop and Mrs. Grundy, preceded by the Usher.

Usher: His Lordship the Bishop of Falsity and Mrs. Grundy

Mr Macdonald (to the Bishop): You are here by appointment, J understand, but we have a number of more important cases dealing with titles to actual property There is, lands. That will receive attention; but our faith has had many martyrs, and will produce many more: we need not bother about them. Nevertheless, it is intolerable that re igious teaching should be excluded from the We shall consider what can be done

I am sitting shivering in the courtyard; flecks of cloud are flying along overhead, and the sunset is dying behind the hills which slope down towards the sea on the northschools. bout that when the case of the landlords and industrial capitalists has been dealt with Regarding the case of this ladywest; the men, all from Berlin, are writing playing the Jews' harp, laughing or dancing Lady Astor: 1 will champion her: we need according to their respective humour. Just beside me is the entrance to the barn where more matrimonial stringency; the marriage laws must be re-established, divorce must fifty of us live and sleep. Through the open door I can just catch sight of a few of them, be made difficult. 1 am on the side of the home. I am on the side of the Bishop, too. already gone to bed, by the Rembrandtesque light of the candles. All the birds, even the The lower orders must be put back in their place, and it cannot be done without the Bishop's help. He must teach them it is their duty to return to the station in which God placed them originally swallows, have disappeared. During the day the air is full of swallows, linnets, finches, blackcaps, wagtails and robins; all come and sing to us from the palings and the wood-stacks. I am just sipping a cup of hot coffee Mrs. Snowden. | agree with Lady Astor: 1 never was able to discover the objection to from a saucepan which is boiling in front o I never was able to discover all objection domestic service. I pray from the bottom of my soul that domestic service and the Church may be re-established. Ten days gone by, and I have still no news

Mr. J. H. Thomas: 1 move that compensa-tion for the railway companies be considered out of the hospital. But you will not be quite ion for the railway companies be considered irst. Mr. Lloyd George: The churches have great mission, but we have prior commitortant for me. I wonder if the children mean to say the boys-are still at Ober Lord Robert Cecil: I shall always demand wiesenthal.

Lord Curzon: No negotiations!

Mr. Winston Churchill: Put me on the Committee, and I'll soon raise an army against them, if I have to go to Africa to get it.

Lord Curzon: I'll agree to nothing short of an ultimatum flowers, shouting: " Ail Ail Midsummer Dav!

> Ail Ai! Anniversary Day! ' 'The Red Revolution of Midsummer

Day, ' Till the end of the world we'll remember alway. The Committee, visitors, Bishop, and Mrs.

Grundy rush out, chased by children, who try to fling garlands of flowers around them.

THE MODERN SKELETON.

By Charlotte Perkins Gilman.

As kings of old in riotous royal feasts, Among the piled-up roses and the wine, Beside the costly viands bought with blood, Amid the music and the dancing girls, The pearls and gold and barbarous luxury, ed to show also a white skeleton; To make life meeker in the sight of death-To make joy sweeter by the thought thereof.

our new kings in their high banqueting, With the electric lustre unforeseen, And unimagined costliness of flowers; Rich wines of price and food as rare as gems And all the wondrous waste of artifice Midst high-bred elegance and jewelled ease And beauty of rich raiment, they should set High before all a sickly pauper child, 'to keep the rich in mind of poverty The sure concomitant of their estate

June 16, 1928.

Children rush in and pelt all present with days

Dearest Sophie .-

Mrs. Grundy: How dare you pick fruit that of course, the question of the ecclesiastical LETTERS OF KARL LIEBKNECHT. Translated from the German by G. B.

July 9th, 1915

Now I am in Russia, and without you! And in what circumstances! I cannot describe my state of mind-involuntary instrument of forces which I loathe with all my soul. And for whose interest? But I will speak no more of it. I read a brief account of the meeting the Party Committee in the gets here at all early. "Vorwaerts" is coming out again; on what conditions? What further development had our opposition to the leaders of the party? I am anxious to know something recent and definite. Have you any fresh news from your home? Please let me know everything as soon as you can, We shall leave here shortly, but no one knows where we are going. We are always under observation, of course-much good may it do them. We are working very hard, and I am tired out. Sunday is just the same as other Kisses to you, dear, and my best wishes. Your KARL.

July 29th 1915

So far I have not been able to get leave. Probably it will all fall through, like the roads here and the roots of the artistic new build-ings we have been putting up. I have heard from Sylvia that she is going to Berlin for . few days at the beginning of August, before leaving for Sweden. You will go with her, it possible; if not, you will follow later. Uf course, if I got my leave, and you could be with me, I should be happy. Many thanks for your letters. For three days again I had no post and no papers. We are in an abomin able corner here. Hindenburg's operations are being followed with the greatest interest. The tobacco is very good, but the filth is almost unbearable.

If I could only see you soon! I am sitting If I could only see you soon? I am sitting on a chest in a stable, our present dwelling-place, and writing on a board. The men are lying "in bed" all round me—that is, they are all stretched out on the straw.

Your KARL.

A "fact " may be defined as an "assump-tion " in closest accord with sifted knowledge, and a "theory " as a proposition about the complete correctness of which full assurance s lacking. A "fact" in the scientific sense of the word is the "closest" agreement of many observations or measurements of the same phenomena.-Giddings.

une ro. Is

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT.

Waorkers' Dreadnought Founded 1914.

Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

All Matter for Publication- To THE EDITOR : Business Communications — To The MANAGER. WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4.

SUBSCRIPTIONS Three Months (13 weeks) ... Post Free 1/71

Min Months (26 weeks) Une Year (52 weeks) 6 6

Vol X. No. 13. Saturday June 16 1923

Our Diew.

THE SCOTTISH BOARD OF HEALTH has appointed a committee to inquire why there has been no Martyrdom lessening in seventy years of Mothers. the proportion of Scottish women who die in childbirth from fever and other causes.

No inquiry is necessary. The most out-standing aggravation of poverty which pro-duces maternity mortality is overcrowding; the "one-roomed house" and the "tworoomed house," so common in Scotland, mean the martyrdom of mothers. In childbirth the tragedy of the mother's environment may be most acute, but the hardships of overcrowding are continuous. The infant suffers with its mother from the unwholesome conditions of the overcrowded house hold. Statistics show that the infant deathrate rises and falls in conformity with the congestion of population as estimated by the number of people per square mile. A more intensive examination of figures reveals the high infant mortality-rate in the over-populated houses where families are herded together under conditions of poverty which are a standing blot upon present-day civilisation. The Communist way is the only way out.

THE PRESENT PARTY GOVERNMENT of Bulgaria has been over-

The Bulgarian thrown by a military uprising Reactionary of the reactionaries. The rise Rebellion. to power of the present Party has divided the great estates amongst the peasantry, all unworked land has been confiscated, and no one was allowed more than one house. Compulsory labour for one period of eight months and ten days a year for men, and for women one period of four months and ten days a year was added to the ordinary military conscription. The men are employed on road making, construction and agricultural work, the women work in the mmunes, where they live and receive instruction in domestic work. Release from this compulsory labour could be obtained by a money payment. The Peasant Party Government, moreover, instituted proceedings against those responsible for Bulgaria's part the Great War

In the recent elections the Peasants' Party secured 215 out of 246 seats. Stambulisky, the Prime Minister of the peasants' Government, is accused by his opponents of being a dictator. Like many politicians, he certainly has that tendency. During the elections he announced that he intended to introduce legislation to compe the Communists in each village to hold their property in common and work their land The announcement was per ogether. haps meant merely as electoral propa-ganda, and not intended to be put into practice. Those who have deposed Stam-bulisky and the peasant party decry Stambulisky as a dictator, but their object is to re activity of the concentration of the difference of the second to re-establish the economic and political dictatorship of the landlords and capitalists The military coup by which the new Government has been established is frankly directed by the reactionary elements to crush the peasants' party and to stamp out the reforms they have introduced for the benefit of the poorer part of the population.

garia has lent himself to the reactionary up- that principle is threatened. It is suggested rising, and has signed a ukase appointing the new Government. He is said to have been made to sign; but even a king can refuse to that the British Government's interest in assisting the reactionary coup was rather and French than pro-reaction, and that it was in-paper which claims to represent the workingslass movement of this country in announc ng the Bulgarian militarist coup should have given its readers a reactionary and erroneous iew of the situation.

On Monday, June 11th, the "Daily Herald's diplomatic correspondent wrote: "And it is not surprising, for Mr.

Stambulisky has been pursuing exactly the policy which, sooner or later, makes a revolution inevitable. . . . He has been Pre-mier of Bulgaria since 1919, when he came straight from prison to take over the Gov-ernment from the discredited war-makers. But he has not been content to be Premier He has made himself a Dictator; and he has driven his opponents to desperation by his methods

The imprisonment last year of the bourgeois leaders, on the pretext of trying them for their responsibility for the wars of 1914; the simultaneous persecution of the Communists; the suppression of all political activities; the amazing farce of the lection this April, which gave the Premier's Party 215 out of 246 seats. Alt these things have produced the circumstances in which political revolution-or an attempted political revolution-becomes

As to the trial of persons responsible for the var, πt is indeed strange that Conscientious Objector Mr. Ewer should refer to that as a pretext. If people are to be tried and punished for anything, it would seem that no erime can be so easily deserving of punish-ment as that!

As to " the simultaneous persecution of the Communists," it is not for that that the reactionaties have overthrown Stambulisky. Was Stambulisky's persecution of Bulgarian Communists worse than the persecut other Governments of their more advanced opponents? We think not.

to "the suppression of all political activities," we wonder where Mr. Ewer got that mformation. Bulgarian Communist papers have been reaching us regularly, and we have read of great Communist processions nd demonstrations.

As to the elections, does Mr. Ewer declare that the elections were falsified? It has been suggested that they may have been, but what sort of witnesses are they who say it? On June .2th the "Daily Herald" pub-lished the opinion of a " prominent Bulgarian

This movement is a movement to the right, and shows the sanity of the Bulgarian people. There was no justice, endless cor-ruption in the administration, the Press had no freedom, and the Government of Mr. tambulisky resorted to measures of confiscation that were the chief causes of disorder in my country." "Confiscation! There you have it in a nutshell; the land of the great proprietors was distributed amongst those who toil on the

It should be observed that the "Daily Herald " gave a wrong lead on the Fascist coup in Italy, Mr. Hamilton Fyfe, the editor, declaring that one must admire Mussolini, who had brought about " a bloodless revolu-

When the Bolsheviki took the power, the Daily Herald " protested in the name of emocracy and peace!

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT is said to have assisted the reactionaries

British to seize power in Bulgaria. Government's That is probably true. The in-British

As might be expected, the King of Bul- support of the Capitalist principle whereve ended to prevent Bulgaria becoming part It is highly unfortunate that the only daily the Little Entente under the influence rance. Such motives and influences may probably have played some part in the in trigue, but we believe that the class struggle provides the real basis of the militarist cou It is a significant fact that while the Bi garian Army numbers only 25,000 by order I the victorious Allies, the same Allies have permitted General Wrangel's 10,000 Russian vhite Guards to establish themselves in Bu garia. They can be counted on to fight the Bulgarian peasants, should they attempt fight for their land.

UNDOUBTEDLY the Left Communists and Anarchists have serious things Stambulisky to say of Stambulisky's Govand the ernment-just the sort of Labour Party, things that the same people and the said of the Governmen Second International "Comrades" Ebert Scheidemann and Noske when it held sway in Germany. In Jambol, Bulgaria, on March 16th, the police fired on an Anarchist meeting held to protest against the disarming of the workers. The people retaliated. Cavalry were brought up. The wounded and those who had been taken prisoner were killed, and some of the prisoners who were told they might go free were fired on by a machine-gun, then stabled to make sure they were dead. Many corpses were buried during the night, or thrown into the river.

Thus the Stambulisky Reform Government made itself the tool of the reaction to stop the further advancement of Labour from economic enslavement. Having allowed the military to crush the Left, it is now itself crushed by the military reaction.

Allowing for the more speedy resort to fire-arms which takes place in the East, the same thing will happen here when Labour comes to power. The workers, expecting an improvement in their conditions, will turn to the Left. The Labour Party, unable to alter the position of the workers without over-throwing Capitalism, will see its popularity departing and the growth of Left influences. ngry with the Left, and spurred on by the reaction, the Labour Government will perse-cute the Left. Then either the Left will pe crushed and the Workers' Movement broken -in which case the reaction will easily turn out the Labour Government-or the Left will triumph and Capitalism will be overthrown. In the meantime, on, on, on with the propa-ganda of pure, free Communism—our only nope. Work always for the Soviets, the workers' shield against bureaucracy.

SOVIET RUSSIA has gradually climbed down to the British ulti-matum. The British are Soviet Government to fish within three miles versus British the Russian shore, Mrs. Government Davidson and Mrs. Stan Stan Harding are to get £13,000 in compensation, the Soviet Government will sign the pledge dictated by Lord Curzon not edge is kept, the C.P.G.B., and all the Third International parties in Britain and in British Colonies, Dependencies, and Do-minions, will lose their subsidies. The one juestion at issue is that of certain Soviet Government representatives who are said to have assisted revolutionaries in Persia and Afghanistan. Lord Curzon demands that these officials be transferred to other posts. The prestige of the Government officials is at stake, and the Soviet Government demands an impartial inquiry as to whether these officials have in fact been guilty of propaganda. If they were good Socialists Government'sInat is probably true.The m-ganda.ganda.If they were good Socialists they must, of course, have done propaganda:Part in the Coup.tervention in Russia was but one of many instances to prove that British Capitalismmust, of course, have done propaganda:that is they must, of course, have done propaganda:Will act through the British Government inand trade with Capitalism.Therefore, the

the last ditch will end by forbidding proaganda by its officials.

JIM LARKIN and his adherents have taken jim Larkin's of the Irish Transport and Workers' Latest. -General Union. Larkin and James Connolly were the pioneers of the Union, and elieve the majority of the members will not displeased that Larkin, has stepped in ithout waiting for the ceremony of election an annual conference. The law, as administered by the Free tatists, will no doubt be set in motion on behalf of the late officials to dislodge Larkin nd his friends and prevent them using the Inion funds. If, however, Larkin follows a blicy of vigorous action, and if a fair propor-on of the members are ready for such a icy, as is probably the case, Larkin and friends will make headway without either he Union war chest or its offices. Meanwhile, the Waterford strike is the ntre of revolt. To raise the Soviets in that, has already been done in thirty-five other rikes in Ireland, and to arouse from that entre a movement that will spread throughut Ireland; that is the great task before ish Communists to-day.

THE STRIKE of Co-operative workers embasises the fact that the co-operative emancipation of Labour can-Strike. The co-called Co-constring Sociation are but control to child erative Societies are but capitalist instituns trading and employing labour under bitalist conditions.

The producing Trade Unions of Greek and nan times, as described by Osborn Ward ad other writers, were institutions of quite nother character. Though surrounded by e private-property system and subject to the actions and even the persecutions of the pitalist state, they yet maintained a large easure of Communist brotherliness amongst enselves, buying collectively for their neral needs, selling their produce collec-rely for their general benefit, maintaining e common table and the practical l solidarity of mutual dependence. Look back towards those ancient unions, and sidering the Co-operative Societies, with ir hired wage-workers, working precisely though for an ordinary capitalist employer, may almost be forgiven for despairing of gress for a passing moment. His produc-e organisation was to the Greek slave his ans of salvation. When his organisation bought him free of the master, his politi status, his material and spiritual position is immensely improved. That is not the se with the workers who become Co-operae employees to-day: they remain wage-rkers, subject to dismissal, without any on the industry; their wages on the are the same as in capitalist employ present strikers, remember, are resisting attempt of the C.W.S. to regulate their ges by those laid down by a Trade Board a sweated industry.

THE ATROCIOUS TREATMENT of its

The Free State Free State Government should open the eyes of all Irish men and women to the knowledge and its risoners.

that a native Government can as cruel and ruthless as the Government the foreigner. Though some Irish Reblicans persist in calling the Free State vernment "this English Government," majority must surely begin to realise t the system is at the root of the evil om which they suffer. Under Communism shall have no Government punishing and ninating. We shall have organisation of common services by those who do the

It is high time an Irish Information Bureau e started, to open the eyes of people in itain to what is actually happening in Ireoviet Government denies, and when driven land, which is still more or less under the PARLIAMENT AS WE SEE IT. control of the Government we allow to govern us. The wounding of our defenceless women prisoners, the beating of a woman prisoner UNEMPLOYMENT 1,221,300 persons were on the live registers of the Labour Exchanges as unemployed on with a pole with an iron hook, the be an unconscious woman prisoner's face with the heel of her boot, the soldier jumping on May 28th. a woman prisoner till she became unconsc. In the County of London on May 28th there are atrocities comparable only to the atrocities of Russia under the Czars.

A People's Irish Information Bureau is overdue: it should be formed at once. We should be glad to hear from comrades who share this view.

NO BETTER ARGUMENT for the sovietisation of industry could be found Private than the decision of the Com-Enterprise

mittee of Executives of the United States steel industry, Steel Trade. headed by Judge Gary, that for reasons described as "moral, social, and material," the twelve-hour day should be retained. A twelve-hour day, say the worthy and well-wishing Execu-' less fatiguing '' than an eight-hour day. The reason, we presume, must be that the worker engaged for twelve hours in the great heat and strain of the steelworks goes straight home to bed at the end of the shift, whilst the worker who is only employed for eight hours has some energy left to take him to the pictures or some other form of amusement, and is so improvident as to get himself tired. Judge Gary's Committee declares that a shorter working day is not desired by the steel workers themselves In presenting the report, Judge Gary made a speech, advising all to read the Bible, and declaring that the nation's laws should be based on holy writ and that it pays to take Christian course.

in the

THE ANGLO-FRENCH ALLIANCE exists

Entente be Broken?

only in name. The British Government maintains its preto be substituted for the poisonous variety which has caused so many recent fatalities. Will the tence of neutrality in the Ruhr, which is merely an ab-COAL AND THE RUHR. South Wales coal has increased since the Ruhr occupation by from 3/4 to 20/- a ton, stention from military parti-cipation in the invasion. The French Gov-ernment makes a show of desiring the British Government to assist in bringing the Germans having risen in some cases from 27/6 to 47/6 Mr. T. Griffiths suggested that payment of to an end of their passive resistance to the invasion, but the French Government is not e increased wage due under the agreement proceeds exceed the agreed wages and profits, is evaded by arranging that the displeased to be left with a free hand to crush increased prices are drawn by agents ap-pointed by the coal-owners, instead of directly the Germans on its own account, as it pleases, and for its own advantage. The French Government declares that t the coal-owners will not discuss any German proposals for reparations till the German passive resistance WAR GRAVES. So far 679,906 British war graves have been tabulated, but the list is not complete; s at an end. The British Government avoids expressing opinion on that refusal by assert-1552,756 of these graves contain unidentified ing that no terms yet proposed by Ger are satisfactory enough to be discussed. hodies THE INTERNATIONAL LABOUR

Thus the two great rivals, France and Bri-tain, face each other like two cats waiting OFFICE. This institution costs the country £30,000 to spring at each other or a mouse, vantageous opportunity presents itself. In POLICE INTIMIDATE NEWSAGENTS. the meantime, they are eyeing each other and finding inaction towards each other safest at present

We need not expect a war in the immediate future, but we must recognise that the great rivals are preparing for a fight, and the fight will come unless the capitalist system be destroyed before the great antagonists have completed their preparations for a trial strength.

The Workers' Opposition in Russia. ALEXANDRA KOLLONTAY. Price 6d. Post free 8d.

PRINTING.

Have you written a book or a pamphlet? Do you publish a paper? Do you require handbills, note headings, membership cards, or other printing? The "Workers' Dreadnought " can undertake the work for you.

were 100,107 men, 23,223 women, and 7,407 juveniles on the live unemployment register. On May 29th, 1922, the corresponding figures were 109,452, 25,576, and 6,498.

Men employed at the City Glass Bottle Works, Canning Town, were unemployed one week in five, and are refused unemployment benefit for that week. The Minister of Labour says he has no power to pay.

On May 31st 13,728 builders were unem ployed in London. The housing shortage remains acute

AGRICULTURAL CREDITS.

On the Agricultural Credits Bill Mr. Jack Jones (Lab.), the principal Parliamentary wag to-day, protested that he represented one of the most important agricultural con stituencies." We produce butter in Silver town, but our principal harvest is empty con-densed-milk tins. He complained that West Ham has to pay rates of 23/6 in the £ because of its poverty, whilst the agriculturalists who are to be subsidised have only to pay 13/ in the £. Called to order by the Speaker, he added that he knew nothing of the land question: "Six feet will be enough for me I am paving for that 3d. a week

NON-POISONOUS DOMESTIC GAS.

The President of the Board of Trade, in reply to questions, said it was watching the question of producing domestic gas on a com-mercial basis by the Tully process, which is claimed to be non-poisonous, or virtually so. No one suggested it might be the duty of our very costly Government apparatus to discover non-poisonous domestic gas and arrange for 't

Mr. Morgan Jones (Lab.) stated on February 28th a police official called on a news agent at Learnington Spa and inquired for the names and addresses of purchasers of the "Daily Herald" and other Labour publications.

The Home Secretary said: " On February 27th a police officer asked some local news-agents whether they sold certain publications, in which, 1 am told, the "Daily Herald" was not included, but made no inquiry as to the names and addresses of publishers. The inquiry was not made at the request of my Department.

There the matter was dropped, as far as the Gas House was concerned. We cannot, how-ever, fail to realise that such inquiries are intended to intimidate newsagents in order that they shall not sell Socialist papers. -

EUGENE SUE'S NOVELS. The Gold Sickle and the Brass Bell: A Tale of Caesar's Gallic Invasion 3/6 The Iron Collar: A Tale of Slavery under the Romans

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT.

STRIKES AND HUNGER RIOTS IN GERMANY.

The hunger riots which started in the Ruhr, which were supposed to have been en-gineered by the French, have spread, accord-ing to the German newspapers, all over the unoccupied territory.

In Leipzig, on June 4th, after a demonstration of the unemployed, a number of them went to the Augustusplatz at 2 p.m. and stormed the Cafe Felsche. The tables and chairs on the verandah were thrown through the plate-glass windows. The customers the plate-glass windows. The customers beat a hasty retreat, so that no one was in-jured. Later a strong body of police arrived and barricaded the cafe. Groups of unem-ployed visited other parts of the town. There vas a conflict with civilians outside Steckners, the modistes, and one man was injured The unemployed also damaged the Ziegler Cafe, on the Promenade. Wholesale furriers remained closed until the afternoon. In the suburbs the Proletarian Defence Force is posted outside the large firms. The police ready for emergency duty, as a repetition ected in the evening. of the riots was expected in Bautzen.

The Social-Democratic Party, with the Communist Party, and other organisations, issued a joint appeal for a demonstration against profits and the sliding scale.

On June 4th, in consequence of the refusal to accept the two proposals made at the unemployed demonstration last Thursday, the Burgomaster Niedner has issued an appeal the citizens of Bautzen, in which he invites them to take part in a demonstration for the same purpose that afternoon, and to keep order and peace in the town; all shops, ses and restaurants to be closed from 3 p.m. till Thursday morning. The sale of intoxicants during that time to be prohibited, this order to be punished infringements o fine of 300,000 marks and fourteen days' imprisonment. The Burgomaster begs every citizen to go home after the demonstraevery citizen to remain in the tion, and not to remain in the Breslau. main in the streets.

In Silesia an agricultural workers' strike has suddenly started, which embraces thirteen districts besides Breslau, and is spreading. The employers have declined to deal with the district leaders of the German Agricultural Workers' Union, and have gone to the head organisation in Berlin, where negotiations will take place, one of the representatives of the Ministry of Labour being present.

Ludwigshafen.

The printers' assistants applied for an in crease of wages. The employers replied that they could not deal with them without the inheim shops, but have promised the workers an advance on the coming rise in The workers have declined this offer wages. The workers have declined this offer, so that the "Pfatzische Landeszeitung," the "General-Anzeiger," and the "Neue Pfat-zische Landeszeitung" cannot appear. (A partial strike of printers began in Ludwigshafen on June 4th, and the capitalist papers cannot appear.)

On June 2nd the United Socialist Party of Germany was holding a meeting at Feucht, a small town three hours from Nurenberg, at which Vogel, the Member of Parliament for Nuremberg-Furth, was speaking. There was some disturbance during the meeting, caused by the monarchist organisation of the Fas-cisti, the "Reichsflagge," but there was no violence. During the chairman's closing re-marks the news suddenly spread through the audience that the Nurenberg police were Herr Gareis, the guardian of law and order in the Republic, State Commissar for Nuremberg-Furth, had sent a company of police by the desire of the Reichsflagge. Without the desire of the Reichshagge. Without assuring him-self whether there were any disorder, the leader issued the order to the company: "The Reichsflagge clear the courtyard," and he stormed into the meeting with his men.

' Hands up! ' and a murderous fire into the closely packed assembly was the work of a moment.

The workers tried to escape, but were roughly pushed back and belaboured with indiarubber batons. Some jumped through the windows, but were treated in the san way by the Sipo and Reichsflagge alike. t was one killed and several severely and ghtly wounded. On the order "Hands up the audience was driven into the courtyard, and some were searched for weapons and had their names taken.

The Reichstlagge and Sipo acted together. Whoever the Reichsflagge leader indicated was arrested.

This is a typical example of what is hapng in Bavaria.

The Munich Workers' Council's Meeting Against the Blood Regime.

June 2nd __At the moment of the greatest political tension a general meeting of the Munich Workers' Councils was called. Or the agenda stood sickness benefits and other important " matters.

The meeting, by a large majority, was against the opposition ot an incorrigible Trades Union leader to a Communist motion on a matter of business, who said it must be discussed on the political question. After a report by our Comrade Buchmann, the meeting agreed that the catastrophal policy of the Cuno Government and its Communist baiting were a cover to veil over the capitulation to French imperialism, protested against the Bavarian exceptional decree, and demanded a Workers' Council emergency police, but to the character of the Bondel conference be called.

The resolution continued: " Let all forces be united in a fight against the Capitalist-Fascist attacks, and above all demands from the Trade Unions a common tackling of the economic fight in all industries, in order to bring about a wages settlement.'

The Social-Democrat " Munich Post " till now has remained silent on this most important decision of the Munich working class. With good reason: for the first public demon Emergency Decree is in direct opposition to the Auer policy of the Bavarian V.S.P.D.

.....................

GERMINAL

Will contain a story by MAXIM GORKY

every month

...................... LEAKEY'S INTRODUCTION TO ESPERANTO.

La Lingvo Internacia. 4d., post free, from the " Dreadnought

Bookshop.

The General Confederation of Labour in Mexico-which has just affiliated to the International Working Men's Association -has organised a boycott of goods from the United States, to continue so long as the United States Government does not release the comrades who are imprisoned for refusing to take part in the world war. The Mexican Federation has 560 sections, so that the boycott should be extensive. Strikes have been declared in establishments belong-ing to citizens of the United States. Hostile strikes and demonstrations have taken place amongst the sailors at Vera Cruz, Progreso, and other ports where American ships load and unload

The Federation of Havana (Cuba) has de-

SOUTH AFRICAN NEWS.

The South African Government's Report on the Bondelzwarts' Slaughter has now been published, from which we give the following extracts:

June 16, 1923

The right and justice to tax every inhabitant of the country, in order to help the development of civilisation, of which one and all are equally to share the fruit."

The Bondelzwarts were economically un able to bear the Government's taxation, so all they could do was to wait patiently on heir land in Bulkok and the S.W. African Protectorate until the Government cleared them out with aeroplanes, bombs and rifles The Government admits that this particular tribe is of a peaceable character.

The Bondelzwarts are a tribe of Hotten tots more or less pure, who migrated from Cape Colony to the Warmbad district of S.W Africa about the end of the eighteent On century.

' By means of their characteristics, tradi by means of one characteristic and the second secon with them because of this might reasonabl be expected by any administration.

The relationships between the Bondela warts and the police was unsatisfactory, th latter regarding them as insolent and lazy while in the eyes of the Bondelzwarts th police were unnecessarily severe and harsh.

General Lemer does not agree that th

The Government's main points to explain the " Native Rising " are:

1 Unwillingness of the Administration depart from the boundary conditions impose by the German Government " (the forme lictators of the same tribe).

2. The imposition of an extraordinaril high dog tax, designed partly to compel the o work instead of depending on dogs to fin them sustenance.'

The Commission regards the tax as un imposing such high taxes, for it says:

The Commission reagrds the tax as u necessarily high, and deprecates measures compel labour.

4. The relationship between the Hotte tot servant and the European employer wa far from satisfactory."

5. Poverty was extreme, and had muc to do with causing dissatisfaction.'

The explanation of General Lemen, wh does not agree on this point, is interesting "The dog tax was not imposed with the special object of compelling the Bondelzwar to come out and work."

Poverty is largely, if not wholly, due the Bondelzwarts themselves, who are te peramentally lazy and lacking the stimuli mprove their position.

The same old story. The workers a always lazy when the exploiters want to make them work for them. The Government S.W. Africa was just as determined to for coloured workers to be at the mercy the mine magnates as Smuts was to dr the white mine-labourers out of the mines, order to get cheap labour in. Has this mu derous move on the part of the S.W. Afric Administration anything to do with the boo of Big Business by the great African b Smuts, to encourage newcomers from over seas to speculate in that territory? I wond

Many of the slaughtering company hav regarded Morris, "the leader of the r bellion." as one of the main causes of th revolt; but the Commission is of the opinio that "people as a whole did not intend t assume hostilities at the time of Morris assume hostilities at the time of arrival.

According to the Report, they make ou that the "Revolt" did not start until after Sergeant Niekert's visit.

June 16, 1923

Jemmer disagrees with this, as well as with UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES. previous point, for he says: "The people Hottentots) had been worked up prior Morris's coming, to a frame of mind suit e for a revolt, and his coming was a signal a rebellion." "I can find no justificafor the conclusion that the words or action Sergeant Niekert were the determining tor for the revolt.

The justification for the murdering of peac people without any warning is the most d-blooded part of the Report:

"The Commission thinks that some warn-g should have been given to the Bondelz-urts at Gurdias of the intention of the Adistration to use aeroplanes, and should we been accompanied by a formal demand or surrender. Such a warning would have nabled a separation of the fighting men from women and children to be effectively ade, and might have brought about a surnder of the native forces.

But again Lemmer did not agree and his bjections take the line "that it was not known that women and children were mixed with the fighting men." etc., etc.

Is not that a sufficient argument that the Hottentots deserved to be killed? Why warning? Why torrents of talk when quick action can be successful and "peace' btained?

The Commission feels that much of the ad plight of the natives in the Bondelzwart area is due to their ignorance. The educa-tion provided in the few schools of the misions has not been effective; there are no adustries whatever. Each succeeding generaion is becoming more degraded and more opeless than the preceding one; and this deprioration and degradation will go on unless he Government of the country steps in with some beneficial scheme of educational and inustrial and agricultural instructions.

The White Paper laid on the table of the Iouse by the Administrator of S.W. . ontains the following frank statement: Administrator of S.W. Africa

The Commission refers to the extreme overty of the people (Hottentots). Yet the ommission knows that I captured 12,470 eep and goats, 800 cattle, and 700 donkeys "The law on the subject is that every native found wandering abroad without any ible means of support is an offender.' I cannot agree with the Commission, the Administrator continues, " in its finding that warning should have been given to the Hottentots of the intended use of this weapon (aeroplanes). Not only would it not have had the slightest effect in inducing a surnder, but it would have defeated the whole plan of action.

The only way open to me with my small force was to surround them in a concentrated position, and to force them to surrender by roplane bombardment.

"It is, of course, very regrettable that a w women and children were injured. This unavoidable in native warfare

I am at a loss to know whence the Com mission has received its information that the aviators were instructed to avoid being seen the Bondelzwarts.

I would urge that owing to the many and varied other duties pertaining to the office of Administrator, for which much time and labour are demanded, any shortcomings which may have resulted should be regarded as due, not to any lack of effort or earnest regard for the important responsibilities thrown upon me."

It is very clear from this Report that the main causes of the revolt were tyrannical oppression and the gradual expropriation of land and cattle from the Hottentots to meet the exorbitant dog tax—£4 10s. 8d. Their dogs were the only primitive tools they possessed by which to obtain a living, but the capitalists wished to force them to become their wage-slaves and industrial workers in-stead of letting them live in freedom on their THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT

SPECIAL TO "WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT."

By Defense News Service

Among those who persecute working men in the United States, the State of California, with its infamous criminal syndicalism law, stands prominent. And in California, the city of Los Angeles, with its port of San Pedro, has gone furthest and done most against Labo Los Angeles Courts and Police Force are ruled absolutely by a junta of capitalists, backed by a group of subsidised newspapers. No man—be he working man or wealthy Liberal—is safe once this plunderbund of last year. A Minister of State employed a few of them on his own property at rabbit declares him dangerous. In April 1923 the Marine Transport trapping. The others had to return to Italy vorkers' Industrial Union, I.W.W., struck, The employment exchanges give preference Workers' Industrial Union, I.W.W., struck, aemanding the release of the political prifirst to Australian ex-soldiers, then to man ried civilians. oners, better wages, and better working con-Ex-Imperial soldiers take their chance with the single men. Ex-Gordon ditions. A week later the more conservative Federation of Marine Transport Workers of Highlanders and Camerons are sleeping out in Sydney Domain with over 200 Austral the Pacific Coast, an independent Union lock workers, joined the strike. This tied up unemployed. Immigrants arriving now will the port completely. Even the strikehave to sleep out too.

pared from the till.

The missions are doling out free meals. breakers quit. Locally the strike was popular. The night refuge provides homeless men with a shelter for 21 nights. It is overcrowded. The Trade Unions supported it heartily. Smaller business men contributed what could be The Salvation Army's stypenny doss-house in Susan Street is full. Last winter the Salva-Restaurants fed tion Army gave away cups of weak tea with strikers at cost-some on tick, to be paid stale bun to the starving unemployed. The when the strike was over. There was no violence; even the police ad. Governor issues rations only to unemployed married men with children, to the value of mitted that. But they got orders from the plunderbund to break the strike, and they set 14/8, in meat, bread, and jam or treacle In some cases the State pays their rent. ut to do it. Boys Wanted for the Mayy. The first move was to seize the strike cor mittee, some thirty of the more active leaders of the men, and prohibit all meetings, whether on public or privately-owned pro perty. The prohibition failed. Thousand gathered on "Liberty Hill," held the adver-tised meeting, and paraded the town singing "Red Flag." The police went mad. Arrest every idle man!" ordered Chief the Oaks. Five hundred reserves rushed into the streets of San Pedro, and swept them clear. Ministers, men in the uniform of the United States Navy, women with babies in their arms, business men, tourists, strikers, all were seized indiscriminately, crowded into freight cars, and hauled to the city gaol in Los Angeles, thirty miles away. The police vent through the town, entering restaurants and questioning diners: " Are you working? If not, another victim! Owners of eatinghouses that had fed strikers were dragged from behind their counters and charged with whatever came into the officer's head—one with blocking traffic! Never had the little port of San Pedro

The Dock Workers' Hall was raided, and twenty seized there. Men with large sums of money in their pockets, owning houses and tomobiles, went with the navvy just off the known such a night of terror. The arrested men lie in gaol, while the swamped Courts dispose of forty or fifty cases a day. Bail is set at £100 and more, even on charges of vagrancy. The prisoners starve. Breakfast consists of two spoonsful of hash and three pieces of butterless bread, with a drink called "coffee." The same hash and bread reappears at dinner. There is no supper. Food from the outside, heretofore supper. permitted to prisoners held in the municipal gaols, is now barred.

Los Angeles Liberals generally, horrified at the reign of terror instituted, attempted to intervene. Upton Sinclair, prominent Social-ist, and author of "The Jungle" and other Hundreds of men fill the filthy gaols of Hundreds of men fill the filthy gaols of well-known books on economic subjects, attempted to read the "American Constitu-Los Angeles and San Pedro. Strike relief is broken up. Meetings are stopped. But the aloud to an audience of police, far out the port is still 75 per cent. effectie-up of of hearing of any strikers, to prove that the arrested men were being deprived of their rights as citizens. He, with three other sailors and longshoremen of California have prominent men, was seized, thrown into a struck a telling blow in the fight to free the police automobile, and taken to a town some United States from the domination of the twenty miles distant, where he was held capitalist plunderbund that now rules in the incommunicado for nineteen hours, while his name of democracy.

FROM AUSTRALIA.

We have 60,458 Trade Unionists unem ployed in the Australian Commonwealth; that is, 8.6 per cent. of 703,000 Trade Unionists. This is apart from the unemployed non-

15/- a Week, Fifteen Hours a Day. Immigrants are lucky if they get a job in e country working fifteen hours a day for 15/- a week. Even domestic workers should beware of coming here. The Premier of New South Wales, when interviewed by the unemployed last December, was only able to promise temporary work to 1,275 men, to tide them over Christmas, out of 15,000 unemployed. Hundreds of Italians came over at the end

The only chance for the British immigrant is to join the Navy. Australians will not join because they are obliged to sign on for twelve years. That is why British tars are in request.

The "Dreadnought Lads and "Boy Scouts " from Britain will be obliged to serve in the compulsory cadet forces for several years. If they fail to attend the drills, they will be placed in a fortress for one or two months and made to drill till they have made up the drills they have missed.

The demand for immigrants is really that they may be used to undercut labour here, and also to act as cannon fodder. The Capi talists are declaring that Australia must protect itself against a possible Yellow peril. We have had lots of Labour Governments here, but our conditions get worse and worse. One big Union seems our only hope.

Yours fraternally

FRED SPILLMAN. Hon. Organiser of Sydney Unemployed.

friends and attorneys searched vainly for him. Finally the truth leaked out through newspaper reporters, and the attorneys forced their way in, thus blocking a scheme to railroad him to trial without legal defence

Sinclair and those arrested with him are charged with criminal syndicalism for "exciting discontent and disturbing the peace by discussing, arguing, orating, and debating cer-tain thoughts and theories that are contemptuous." This charge carries a penalty of fourteen years at hard labour. The trial is set for June 15th, and Chief of Police Oaks tuous." declares that if he fails to secure a conviction 8

June 16, 1923.

Our Bookshop.		Tommy and	the Officer.
Edward Carpenter: Desirable Mansions	41d.	A certain officer, fellow-worker, was gra	nted a gratuity on retirement of £1,550.
Clara Cole: The Castle in the Air	1 1 d.	When you retired from His Majesty's Service fellow-worker; but let that pass.
Parliament The People's Enemy	1½d.	authorities paid the gratuity to the officer.	ot his gratuity paid twice over. The Indian and the Paymaster-General in London also
Dustheap Alley and The Living Tomb	11d.	sent the officer a letter of advice which the α of £1,550.	fficer presented and received a second sum
Belgium Never Neutral The Message	1d. 1d.	The authorities discovered they had been done, but decided to write off the amount as a loss, prosecution not being considered feasible, as the Blue Book says.
Discovered: 'The New Armament Ring	$1\frac{1}{2}$ d.	Many and many a Tommy, whom the authorities overpaid by mistake, has been
H. Gorter: Ireland: Achilles Heel of England	1 1 d.	punished because he took the money and sa and widow has been punished for the same	cause.
W. F. Hay: The Logic of the Machine	2 1 d.	We are not asking that the officer shou the difference in your treatment—you of the	ld be punished; but we point out to you world's rank and file. 'Tis ever so.
A. W. Humphrey:	1 1 d.	Does it not occur to you, fellow-worke	rs, that what you need, what we all need,
Life in Russia To-day The Allies' Crime Against Soviet	1 1 d.	is a world run by the rank and file in its own We are the tools to-day. Rich men's Go	vernments pull the strings and do with us
Russia Alexandra Kollontay:	1	what they will. Let us work for the equalitarian society	built on production for use, not profit!
Workers' Opposition in Russia O. V. Kuusinen:	6 ‡ d.		THE SEARCHLIGHT.
The Finnish Revolution	2 1 2d.	Bishop Montgomery Brown:	"THE SOCIALIST."
N. Lenin: Bourgeois Democracy and the Dic-	1 1 d.	Communism and Christianism 1/2	(Official Organ of the Socialist Labour Party.)
tatorship of the Proletariat The Chief Lask of Our Times	$1\frac{1}{2}d$.	Alice Riggs Hunt: Facts About Communist Hungary 11d.	Politics. Economics. Industrial Unionism.
Marx and Engels: Manifesto of the Communist Party	3 1 d.	Maxim Litvinoff: On Soviet Russia 1d.	Current Events. Monthly, 2d. Sixteen Pages
E. Sylvia Pankhurst: Housing and the Workers' Revolution	11d.	J. T. Walton Newbold: Capitalism and the Counter-Revolution 11d.	Order from your newsagent, or Socialist Labour Press, 46, 48, 50 Renfrew Street.
The Schooling of the Future	1/2 1/2	A. Ransome: The Truth About Russia 11d.	Glasgow.
Soviet Russia as I saw it Writ on Cold Slate	1'/2	John Reed : Red Russia I 4d.	COMMUNICE
S. Pankhurst, P. Lynch, M. O'Callagha Rebel Ireland	n: 2½d.	,, ,, II	COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT.
Labriola: Socialism and Philosophy	6/10	W. Schmidt: The Hungarian Revolution 3d.	OUTDOOR MEETINGS.
Boudin:	-,	Schumlatzki: The Aims of the Bolsheviki 21d.	Friday, June 15th8 p.m., The Grove,
The Theoretical System of Karl Marx	6/10	James Stewart: An Appeal to the Young 21d.	Hammersmith: Sylvia Pankhurst, N. Smyth. Sunday, June 17th.—7 p.m., Brockwell
E. Untermann: Marxian Economics	7/4	Albert Rhys Williams: Questions and Answers About Soviet	Park: W. Hall, N. Smyth. 7 p.m., Finsbury Park: Sylvia Pankhurst, J. Welsh.
Engels: Socialism, Utopian and Economic	1/71	Russia 112d.
Origin of the Family Karl Marx:	3/8	G. Zinoviev:	WANTED-A GARDEN. Wanted on loan or to rent for a day, a
Eighteenth Brumaire (paper). (cloth)	1/7출 3/7출	The Communist Party and Industrial Uunionism	garden in London.
Civil War in France C. K. Streit:	1/71	All Workers' Revolutionary Union of Workshop Committees 11d.	QUARTER DAY.
Where Iron is, There is the Father-	9/71	British Consul Replies to Anti- Bolshevik anders 112d.	Quarter Day brings a period of added strain
Lafargue:	2/71	The Communist Song Book	at the "Dreadnought" Office. In these hard times it is always difficult to keep the
Origin and Evolution of the Idea of a Sour	3/11	Republic 31/2 d. 31/2 d. 31/2 d. 31/2 d.	propaganda going: and the additional strain every three months comes near to being the
George Brewer: The Rights of the Masses	9d.	Law and Authority 11d.	proverbial last straw. Therefore, send along your mite, remembering that: "Many a
W. Liebknecht: No Compromise	1/1	Red Paper o'n Executions and Atroci- ties Committed in Russia	mickle makes a muckle! "
A. Pannekoek: Marxism and Darwinism	9d.	The Russian Plan for a League of Nations	"DREADNOUGHT " SUMMER
Mary Marcy:	9d.	Programme of the Russian Communist Party 112d.	SALE.
Wm. Morris:		The Working Class and their Children 11d. Liberal America and Soviet Russia 1d.	Comrades are urged to get busy collecting
Monopoly, cr How Labour is Robbed Useful Work and Useless Toil	$2\frac{1}{2}d.$ $2\frac{1}{2}d.$	Lenin's Views on the Revolution 1d. Dr. B. Liber:	and making goods for the Summer Sale and
A Dream of John Ball	10d.	The Child in the Home 7/10	Garden Party in aid of the "Workers' Dreadnought," which is to be held shortly. Books, pictures and drawings, furniture,
The Intellectual and the Worker Industrial Unionism and Revolution	9d. 9d.	Frederick Soddy, M.A.: Cartesian Economics	clothing, farm produce, groceries, cakes, sweets, jams, toys, fancy goods, hats, shoes,
Viteslav Halek: Our Grandfather	9 1 d	Baudelaire: Poems in Prose	tobacco, tools, etc., etc., will all be gratefully received.
Poldik the Scavenger	4 1 d.	Omar Khayyam: Rubaiyat
God and the State	8 1 d.	Sylvia Pankhurst: Writ on Cold Slate 1/-	"DREADNOUGHT " £1,000 FUND.
J. W. Draper, M.D., LL.D.: Christianity and Civilisation	$2\frac{1}{2}$ d.	Soviet Russia as I Saw It 1/- Truth About the Oil War 1d.	Brought forward: £21 16s. 2 ¹ / ₄ d. Conscience, 1/-; F. C. Davies, 2/6; I. A.
Anatole France: The Human Tragedy	9 1 d.	Alexandra Kollontay: Workers' Opposition in Russia 6d.	Cahill, 10/- (monthly); F. Haughton, 30/- (10/- monthly); Irene Smith, 1/- (weekly);
Maxim Gorky: Twenty-six Men and a Girl	9 1 d.	Bishop W. Montgomery Brown:	P., 2/6; Workers' Stores, 2/-; T. L. Seas-
Thomas Paine: The Age of Reason	91d	Communism and Christianism 1/-	well, 1/8; Per Mrs. F. Carter, 2/6; Collec- tion, Battersea, 10d.; G. Dunn, 1/-; A. Bar-
The Brothers Capek:		YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.	low, 10/- (1/- weekly). Total for week, £3 5s. Total, £25 1s. 2½d.
The Insect Play	$2/1\frac{1}{2}$	The high cost of production
R. U. R L. A. Motler:	2/71	A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscrip-	Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst at 152 Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by the
The Revolution To-morrow	21d.	tion is now due. of the paper necessitates prompt payment.	Agenda Press, Ltd., at 10 Wine Offic Court, London, E.C. 4.
Poems	10d.	or the huber measurement from to the man	and the second second