Dear Philippa
Wonderful success <sup>in</sup> the Norwich

<sup>24. I have a Colin Jim written for me, of the best
splendid</sup> Long Gores, Hacking

<sup>at Norfolk
I have not it true</sup>

Try does ship a little water + if not careful it might sink so I am wondering whether tarring it would make it absolute water tight. I seem to remember that more cradle in the hull washer was tared. I stopped up a couple of holes, fearful deep, in the outer leg of my quilt. I have 2 initials MT at the <sup>base</sup> ~~top~~ <sup>of</sup> ~~the~~ <sup>rod</sup> ~~rod~~ rod, for as I stopped one hole there was a splash on the other side, a vill deved me under the water - one hole is above water + leads down to another under water - howling Success in fact. I do not want to spoil Phil's trug with car so will get another + consult with carpenter! in fact I am thinking of getting him to make a trug big enough to hold me - about 8 stone I am, I will paddle along with hands. Mrs North began weeping a little when she saw me go with Phil's trug - she knew it had been given to Phil's niece, who was here this week with her 1/2 brother + I think they nearly dined Phil's (nephew) <sup>great</sup> <sup>thaine</sup> at as Phil's niece has inherited it. A very good think to say that machine up proper.

Yours M. P. water like silk. Brilliantly wonderfully covered in spangles such love boughs.
