

AL/2513

BOROUGH ROAD TRAINING COLLEGE,
ISLEWORTH.

Dear Mr. Martyn

I am always glad to suggest sources of stories for names to story-tellers. I quite understand what you want; but I will try to fight shy of what might be called stories discreditably to women. There is no doubt that an enormous mass of stories about women - good bad & indifferent women: & I indicate for you some of the sources. It will take some reading to set lists of them: but if you can deal with the British Museum Catalogue (I think you said you could) you will be able to amass a good deal. Incidentally, we might think of making such a collection & printing it: but I dare say that would come after

Yours
Arthur Ruxton

16.2.18.

I was lecturing twice in Tottenham lately & had to come to Maidenhead & found you were not present at my lectures