CARROW HOUSE,
NORWICH.

December 17. 1898

Dear Mr. Fawcett,

I should have long ago sent you the enclosed cheque on account of Pamphlets supplied to Miss Forsaith — the fault is entirely mine.

I write now however rather for another purpose. I have the right to suggest a few persons as Laud Rector to the Senates of Andrews University for the degree of L.D.D. to be given at the time of my installation. The Senates is not obliged to give the degree to them I suggest but in the present case they have resolved to do so and one of them I suggested was you. I write to say that I hope you will not refuse to accept it, because I particularly desire that in any group nominated by me the name of a woman should appear

I am
yours faithfully

James Stuart

no need to reply & this as a formal letter will reach you from the University in due course. Believe me is July 23? —
