

AL 136
Congleton, 26/9/06.

Dear Miss Seymour,

I fear I can do little or nothing to help you - so far as to assist in the War of Kingsdown is concerned - in your proposed study of the history of the W. S. movement. The doctor do not wish in any connected or reliable form. Miss Blackburn's memoir of Miss Julia Barker gives more detail than any other further-tion, - but it is in many respects inaccurate - do not provide a copy of it - nor can I be able to recall the exact title or the publisher's name.
I hope myself, when ever we have at our the fine time to write the reminiscence of my life, to devote the of these books - being kindly recd one of which should give this very story, for which I have the material, in tens of thousands of letters, newspaper cuttings & other documents, &c having on this matter - But this one book alone would involve a good deal of hard work - I should want to wish folks to turn aside from our strenuous fight to give the suffrage now, in order that I think of this matter,

So far as other books are concerned - I can lend you the booklet giving the story of the New Zealand fight for the U. S. G. I can lend you the Pennsylv. life of Susan B. Anthony, or my 2 important story - But, no, I have too many booklets of previous I irrefutable evidence to through the countless ones of those who would entertain them, I have for years I can't make it a rule to lend nothing to me without a previous promise that they shall be returned within a given time, say six ~~months~~ weeks I possess the 4 vols. of the history of Woman Suffrage (U. S. G.) but vols.
1 & 4 - the most important about on loan till November, - is a friend who is writing, from our point of view, a most important pamphlet which will probably then be published by the L. S. 10. I am well & will probably be an article of my own, the case for the immediate franchisement of the Women of the United Kingdom" - which will however, first appear in the Women's number of the Westminster Review. of course, what you really want is the story of the past franchise rights enjoyed by women in their islands - I can lend you the little book written by my friend - Mrs. Soper, who has Mr. Stoughton's account of the pamphlet & some other things. But much in this case we know precisely what you want. Personally I think it is mistaken just now to raise these points when every part of our story is needed for the actual present fight. I am forced to wish you to - see that I am a terribly overworked old woman of 73, home who job is working for our cause many hours every day -

Dearthfully yours,

E. C. W. ~~Wolstenholme~~ Elmy -

find out from ~~Miss~~ Hewitt
56 Winkler St
what the price of shoes
was when she began

Wolstenholme Elmy
1009 E
Rivendale Wokingham
Wokingham

find out from
Miss Smith
56 Whiskey Str
what the price of shoes
was when she began

---

Estimated value
between an Adams
Fawcett Library
27 Wilfred Street
London S.W.1. 6989

of the room of 193, how the job is working for our cause making from every day
Smith for the year,
E. C. Whitman for the year -