

July 5^h 81.

Ravensbourne, Keston,
Beckenham,

AL/3700

My dearully Miss Bonham Carter has asked me to stay here a little longer than I first intended and as I know you are all of you very busy in the week, I have agreed to postpone my departure till Saturday next, when I should be with you about 1 p. m., I suppose, as the train gets to Putney at 12.34.

If however you have any engagement for ^{the} Saturday - Monday, please tell me so candidly, as in that case I might either stay here over the Sunday or go back to London first.

I merely fixed the time with a view to getting in your 3 free days during my visit at your house. I am having a delicious lay time ~~here~~ in this beautiful place and with such lovely summer weather as I never thought possible in England. Hay making is going on in all the meadows round about and the roses are in full bloom. I suppose a set of papers from Cambridge will be sent to your house for me on the 6th or 7th. Please to keep them for me, if you can have me on Saturday if not, to send them an'to here.

Yours affably

Mia v. Cotton

Love to your mother, please and if you write here once more, mention what the cost is from Putney to your house is.
