My dear Lady Strachey,

I have been deputed to convey the thanks of our Committee to you for your most kind thought of providing the singing at the Queen's Hall Meeting. I am sure it was this item in the programme which made the meeting go with such a hearty swing, and if you could see the letters we have received since telling us how much the women themselves enjoyed the meeting, you would feel that your labours had not been in vain.

We all sincerely hope that the next time your songs are sung you will be there to hear them yourself.

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Edith Simock
