Hengwrt,
Dolgelley,
N. Wales.

May 1st

My dear Mr. Fowles,

I cannot, as you, expect to read much of my drawing letter (on visitation) books - but I shall be very pleas'd

If you will send the paper called the "Journal of Science". It will suffice to put in possession of the key to this new branch country.

Very

I shall be very pleas'd to hear of you again about 23 years ago. He was a poor country gentleman who died and left in Jersey. My father (with my mother's consent) sold ^{the} two best his pictures & rebuilt a number of cabins on his mountains (those to see from the Phoenix Park - when by the way) - We used to call the cottages afterwards, the "Hobbeson cottages" from the picture - now the Dorchester name. He found his estate covered with wood of ^{the} ^{best} ^{of} ^{the} ^{country} ^{gentlemen} ^{with}

of ^{the} ^{best} ^{of} ^{the} ^{country} ^{gentlemen} ^{with} duties of a country gentleman, with scarcely one which he had not learned of stone & slate! Scarcely by English hand and I have had the chance of being seen a small Providence as he used to help in County - I had those ^{honest} ^{gentle} subscribed to buy pikes to kill him! subscribed out of money I had given them. When sitting in their cabins amid the fogs
- Stricken at the end of our life

- He is very good & very elderly gentleman also - who let his estate & 2 poor women to his ^{wife} ~~own~~ for life - a woman I have always remembered - so to see dear Mr Percy what sad memories the word "Ireland" & V-kind reference to my family compare up to me

I have 2 more in a pleasant

- I was sure to have me interested trip - but however, too long in the year for the full beauty of Killarney

- the only thing in Ireland not over-praised

Ever & affectionately

Frances Moore

I am very glad you spoke out before Lord A. writing to W.C. about W.S. - but I am in absolute despair about you
