I write in a hurry to ask whether you could find some employment in your school (for the new term and through the winter or longer) for a very clever German teacher, who has studied at the gymnasium and wishes to improve her English. Salary would not be so much of a consideration to her as the possibility of staying in an English home, giving as few as as many lessons as would be required and earning a few money to cover her expenses. I can certainly recommend her as clear, ambitious and very efficient. Do you get my letter? Yours A. O. Collier
