

AL/2238
To Mr Henderson

175 LADDOKE TERRACE,

LEICESTER, ENGLAND

1

May 21 1922.

My dear Daisy.

My love to your dear mother & to dear little one. My thoughts are often with you both. I hope your mother got special food from her outings & will be enjoyed your Cornish spree. I was going to write Cornish cream - but no doubt that was included! I won't have written before, but have not been up to much - my heart so trying. But I am resting with an old friend, who very comfortable place - (Tower Green, where I was going still not available & I think I shall have to give up all

17, LADDOCK TERRACE 2
17, LADDOCK TERRACE

idea of it (rather kind) This is the home of the daughter of my oldest school friend at Cheltenham College, I am very much worried often, shall-in fact. The only drawback to give so that I'd not be here permanently. They are not the cause of my being sick, I think I must have slightly strained myself packing in before I left. I've been free. Anyway, I hope to be all right soon if I'm careful.
But I continue my mind better in other respects. I should be more than delighted if you at some day come & see me if you had time. But it is a long way from Solovoi Green - about 5 minutes or rather less from there 28 kati we down at Nobby Hill School station. If you could come to tea, all the better for me.

AL/ 2238 cont

3

The book is just out on Friday. Will you be a trick & order it at Books Library as this does help, specially at the moment.
Gordon seems getting on fairly well at Oxford.

With love from your own family.

Mr Cook,

in affecy

Beatrice Harcourt