OBJECT.

To promote toymaking by British Women.

CONSTITUTION.

The Hon. Officers and Executive Committee are associated together solely in the interests of British professional and working women needing employment, and neither they nor the London Society for Women's Suffrage will derive any pecuniary advantage from the commercial success of toys produced in the workrooms under their control.

All funds received by the Committee will be held in trust for the object stated above.

METHOD.

To institute enquiries in regard to possible openings for toymaking by British Women.
To raise and administer a fund for the purpose of financing Toy Workrooms for Unemployed Women through such experimental stages as may be, in the opinion of the Committee, desirable, and for such other purposes as may further the object of the Committee.

To conduct workrooms, and all business connected with them, on such lines as shall bring them into harmony with the best trade custom.

To acquire designs and models for suitable toys.

Note.—The Bimbo Toy Factory (Designer and Director, Miss Lloyd) is under the control of The Bee Toymakers. Orders for Bimbo Toys are earnestly solicited. All enquiries in regard to them should be addressed to Miss Lloyd, c/o Miss Helen Ward.

It is hoped shortly to produce Major Richardson's Ambulance Bloodhound, a Toy designed by Countess Feodora Gleichen.

If you approve the object of The Bee Toymakers, kindly fill up the appended slip and send it to the Treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Maxwell.

I enclose (or promise) £ : - : as a donation to The Bee Toymakers
