Dear Pip

Donnez moi votre pater. You will be surprised to hear that I have survived after going through two horrors. (1) Seeing the H.M. (2) My speech on Saturday. (1) was put off for a day.
Then I went up. "What have you to say for yourself?" "Oh, my watch was slow!" "I am afraid that

...e won't quite do; do you know the usual punishment on these occasions? (smiling) "No sir." "Well you see I don't think I could set you lines for being late for chapel exactly, so you must go to call over at the Marshall's office every Sunday at half-past three and there is no reason why I shouldn't set you lines for that. It's a neat lit. the artifice for getting out of the difficulty." (laughing.) (2) Nothing particular happened, only we were beaten and I shall have to speak again the next debate. I should think that you could send something to home as well. Do you know when Papa and Mamma are coming home? How amusing about that dog. I suppose the people came for their boat which was found ~~of~~ on the pond. In the house matches in one game we were beaten, but in another we won. I have been at $\frac{1}{2}$ past three and come back again. The bell has just rung and I must not be late again, so
