THE SITUATION.

We urge upon our members that they should pay special attention to the announcements in this issue relating to the important series of meetings to be held this autumn in Chelsea, Paddington, Highbury, and Battersea.

The Committee attach the utmost importance to the success of these meetings and have no hesitation in calling upon every member who is able to do the slightest service towards achieving this result to offer his aid and advice.

Mr. Jamrach who has charge of the office arrangements desires to hear without delay from those who will buy or endeavour to sell tickets, or will exhibit or arrange for the exhibiting of posters and window bills, or will undertake either to distribute handbills or to give the addresses of persons in the neighbourhood to whom handbills may be sent.

The attention of Provincial members is further directed to the campaign which is entrusted by the Committee to Mr. F. N. Sargeant, M.A.

A new epoch in the suffrage movement will be inaugurated on Tuesday, Oct. 3rd, when the Standard newspaper—first of all the great London dailies—will produce a page devoted entirely to matters affecting women. In saying this, we do not imply that The Standard is merely starting an improved fashion page. The matter to be included in this new page is such as will fill a serious gap which now exists for all who take a genuine interest in the status and in the work of women, whether in administrative work or in the ordinary relations of employer and employée. It will give adequate news, in the first place, of all that pertains to the suffrage movement, and we are glad to assure our readers that in this connexion The Standard has the cordial support of all suffrage societies. On the other hand—and this suffragists will not be afraid to welcome—it will report all the work done by our opponents of the anti-suffrage league.

This page in The Standard will, however, do more than report fully the pros and cons of the suffrage battle. It will also devote space to the wider interests of women. There will be news and articles dealing with municipal questions in so far as they affect women, and adequate accounts of, e.g., trade unionism among women and the achievements of women in literature, art, and other professions.

The first pages will include articles by Mrs. Fawcett, Lady Jersey, and Lady Selborne. We may thus infer that there is an intention on the part of the editors to adopt a partisan attitude. This is precisely what we have asked for. Hitherto we have been faced by an organized boycott, except in The Manchester Guardian and to a less degree in The Morning Post and The Daily News. The fairness and the enterprise of The Standard in "striking out this new line" all suffragists will cordially welcome and approve. We are glad to note that one of the most experienced journalists in the Men's League is occupying an important post in connexion with The Standard's excellent scheme.

Do not forget October 3rd. Try The Standard.

The month has been a slack one for some purposes, but many of the League's speakers have been addressing meetings. The situation has in no way developed; but there have been some little tilts against the Conciliation Bill in the Daily News. The latest argument against it is the effect of the judgment in the Kent v. Fittall case (No. 2). It is argued by antis and adultists that even if our Bill was a democratic Bill before the judgment, it is democratic no more. Our figures must, we are told, be completely revised. Mr. Brailsford stated recently that the number of women municipal voters had never been seriously augmented by the earlier Kent v. Fittall case. Inquiry has shown the correctness of his view. The latest returns from Bangor and Carnarvon, one of our two test constituencies, show that so far as women are concerned the decision has made no charge whatever. Working women will have, it is shown, exactly the same large preponderance among the women voters after the latest Kent v. Fittall judgment as before. Our opponents have only discovered a mare's nest.

The Kilmarnock bye-election has resulted in the complete defeat of Sir John Rees. This old comic and turbulent opponent, in changing from Liberalism to Conservatism, has retained his anti-suffrage fanaticism. He has loudly proclaimed his opposition and refused to receive a deputation, and we feel surprised that the Unionist party should have endorsed his candidature.

It is more regrettable that the victorious candidate, who bears the great name of Gladstone, should have refused to vote for the Conciliation Bill. Young Mr. Gladstone, full of general talk about liberty, refuses to do justice to women. He however, goes so far as to say that if it can be shown that the majority of women desire the vote, it may be inexpedient to deny it to them, a trite truism. On the other hand we congratulate Mr. McKerrow, the Labour candidate, a sound friend of our Cause, who had the warm support of all Suffragists, upon the excellent fight he made under adverse conditions.

The Women's Local Government Society is preparing to open a campaign for the Bill which proposes to enable married women to serve on town and county councils. The Bill is known as the "Local Government Qualification Bill." It has several times been before the House, but has never had the luck to get a second reading, though it is widely backed. It will be interesting to see what line our friends the enemy of the Anti-Suffrage League take on this question. They profess to be in favour of the opening of the Local Government sphere to women. We shall also want to see if those champions of the rights of married women, —Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Masterman—do anything to secure facilities for this measure.

We beg to acknowledge with thanks the Women's Journal, the national organ of the National American Woman Suffrage Association—indeed an excellent periodical. The journal anticipates a great victory for the cause in California this year. We also beg to acknowledge Votes for Women, The Common Cause, The Vote, and the South Australian journal, Life and Labour, which gives prominence to the work of women. Our old friend Jus Suffragii, is as regular and as good as ever.

CHELSEA TOWN HALL MEETING.

NOVEMBER 2ND, 8 O'CLOCK.

THE League is holding a series of four important public meetings in Chelsea, Paddington, Highbury, and Battersea. The first will be held in the Town Hall, Chelsea on Thursday, November 2nd at 8 o'clock. The speakers will be

- Mrs. Henry Fawcett, LL.D.
- The Earl Russell.
- The Hon. Sir John Cockburn, K.C.M.G.
- Laurence Housman, Esq.

The founder of the League, Mr. Herbert Jacobs, will be in the Chair, and a large number of prominent local men are expected to be on the platform.

Tickets are on sale now (2s. 6d. and 1s., reserved), and may be obtained from Headquarters or through the Chelsea and Fulham branches of the Women's Societies.

As this is the chief meeting, so far as we are aware, to be held in Chelsea this Autumn we urge upon our members and friends most emphatically that they should co-operate with us in making it a triumphant success.

OTHER TOWN HALL MEETINGS.

Paddington Town Hall.—On Nov. 28th the League will hold the second of its important series of Town Hall meetings at the Town Hall, Paddington. Dr. John Clifford, the famous Free Church divine, and one of our Vice-Presidents, has kindly consented to make a speech on this occasion; we hope that another Vice-President, Mr. A. J. Webbe, will be in the chair. Full particulars will be given in the November Monthly Paper.

Battersea Town Hall.—The Battersea meeting will be held on December 6th, and it is hoped that the Rev. Stewart Headlam will take the chair. Full particulars will be given in the November Monthly Paper.

Mr. Sargeant desires to reiterate the appeal in the Editorial Notes of this issue for help and advice from local members and friends. It will be realized that offers of help made in advance will not only save the League much cost in postage—which is exceedingly important—but also much labour and time on the part of an overworked office staff. J. MALCOLM MITCHELL.

OUR £1,000 AUTUMN PROPAGANDA FUND.

During the month of September we reached the £200 stage towards our £1,000 fund.

The office earnestly asks every member to send the League a special donation towards its autumn propaganda.

The officers of the League know that every member means to send one, but unless the cheque is sent, or a note made, directly this article is read, there is a chance that the generous thought may be forgotten.

One of the members has been sending us a regular donation of £10 monthly, and has this month added an extra £15 (making his donation £25 for September), but we can hardly expect him to continue his generosity unless all members help us by sending something as a special donation towards this fund.

As the next few months are the most important months in the history of the movement, it is imperative that the League should have a decent Bank balance at its back in order to get into touch with, and make active, men who probably have never given the Suffrage question a serious thought or who, at the best, are only passive sympathizers.

Another point, and a very important one, is that each member of this League should introduce at least one new member per month. Half an hour's conversation in the evening will do it.

The cause being just and the annual subscription of 2s. 6d. small, no difficulty is experienced in getting a recruit if the member is really in earnest.

For example, eleven of the new men enrolled this month were introduced by one member.

A. W. G. JAMRACH, Finance Secretary.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.

IN addition to the list of Vice-Presidents given in our last number we have pleasure in announcing that the Rev. John Clifford, D.D., the Rev. John Hunter, D.D., of Glasgow, and Major-General Sir Alfred Turner, K.C.B., have accepted the Committee's invitation.

OPEN-AIR MEETINGS IN NORTH LONDON.

THANKS to the vigorous help of Mr. Thos. G. Rogers, of Highgate, the Men's League has held two eminently successful meetings in Upper Holloway. On Sept. 16th our platform was set up opposite Tufnell Park Tube Station, and Mr. Rogers took the chair. During his brief opening remarks, Mr. Rogers sketched the position in Parliament of the Conciliation Bill, and showed that, owing to the Prime Minister's promise for next session, the Conciliation Bill was now a matter upon which every elector must, without delay, make up his mind. Mr. Mitchell then explained the position of the League towards Woman's Suffrage, with special reference to the provisions of the Conciliation Bill, and referred to some of the objections raised by Anti-Suffragists. His suggestion that, following out the Anti-Suffrage theory concerning the superiority of physical force, might result in an electorate composed solely of Sandow and Mr. Johnson was not unfavourably received by a gradually increasing audience.

The most effective part of the meeting was a careful explanation by Mr. Herbert Jacobs of the real meaning of the phrase "inhabitant occupier." In spite of a somewhat hysterical heckling by an adult Suffragist, our Chairman's judicial handling of the essential facts produced an undeniable impression upon the men who formed the great bulk of the audience.

As a sequel to the meeting described above—again by the help of Mr. Rogers—the League risked a mid-week meeting on the following Thursday, Sept. 21st, at the corner of Elthorne Road and Holloway Road. Mr. Gugenheim took the Chair and gave a characteristically able exposition of the main points of the Conciliation Bill. Mr. Mitchell also spoke, and we were fortunate in having the help of Mrs. Rogers, who spoke with great effect from the women's point of view.

Following up the above two meetings, and in response to a very emphatic challenge from the adult Suffragists of the neighbourhood, a meeting was arranged for Saturday, Sept. 23. For this meeting we had the great good fortune of securing the aid of our tried friend and Vice-President, Mr. H. G. Chancellor, M.P. Unfortunately the weather turned out unfavourable, and though Mr. Chancellor braved a storm of wind and rain it was found impossible to hold the meeting.

The League is extremely grateful to Mr. Rogers for giving a kind of help which is particularly necessary to headquarters. May we urge upon London members that the most valuable contribution they can make towards the efficiency of the League is to undertake to provide a chair or even an orange box at a suitable corner in their own neighbourhoods? Head Office will arrange speakers, and do its utmost to make such meetings successful.

OPEN-AIR CAMPAIGN.

SINCE the publication of the last report, strenuous work has been done in Hyde Park. It was found impracticable to conduct any meetings during the month of August, but the first Sunday in September found the League's speakers once more assembling round the well-known platform. "A splendid record of large and enthusiastic meetings" is a fair summing up of the month's work, and, indeed, even the most confirmed of pessimists could not have found much more to desire in regard to the whole course of this year's campaign. Two things stand out prominently so far as our audiences were concerned. They were genuinely anxious for information, and were keenly interested, not so much in the speakers as heretofore, but in the subject-matter of their speeches. Thus far we have only to congratulate ourselves on our success. But we must insist that more might easily have been accomplished had more speakers been forth coming. The break in the weather makes it possible that the meeting on October 1st will be the last in Hyde Park this year. Miss Housman's arrest provided our speakers with material they did their best to utilize to the utmost, and in spite of the bitterness of the wind our audience was held to the very end.

Our thanks are extended to Messrs. Simpson, Duval, and Kennedy, who have been most constant in their help.

TH. G.

ARREST OF MISS HOUSMAN.

MISS CLEMENCE HOUSMAN, sister of Mr. Laurence Housman, was arrested on September 29th for the non-payment of house duty in respect of her house in Swanage. The amount claimed is 4s. 6d., with £4 18s. 6d. costs. The arrest has been threatened by the authorities for some time back, and frequently postponed.

Vigorous protest meetings have been held: the first took place at midday on Thursday, September 28th, at Mr. Housman's house in Kensington. The speakers were Mrs. Fagan, of the Tax Resistance League, and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence. A second was held outside Holloway Gaol on September 30th, at 7.30 P.M., and a third in Hyde Park at 3.30 on October 1st.

It seems almost incredible that passive resistance on the part of an unrepresented woman should meet with arrest under a Government, so many of whose supporters adopted precisely the same line of action in the case of the Education Rate. Inconsistency and hypocrisy are not uncommon in politics: surely, however, these qualities have never been more crudely exhibited than in this connexion. There are, of course, members of the League who have always disapproved of passive resistance; there are, however, many who actually took part in it, including at least two of our Vice-Presidents. Surely these members will take immediate steps to bring the matter effectively before the attention of the Government and of their own members of Parliament!

DEBATE ON WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

A DEBATE on Woman's Suffrage took place at the Queen's Hall on Friday evening, September 29th, between Miss Gladys Pott, of the Anti-Suffrage League, and Mrs. Teresa Billington-Greig, whose recently published books and articles on the militant movement caused a mild stir in Suffrage circles a little while back.

The International Suffrage Shop of Adam Street, Strand (who were responsible for the memorable debate between G. K. Chesterton and Cicely Hamilton), arranged the meeting, and were particularly fortunate in obtaining Mr. A. G. Gardiner, editor of The Daily News, as Chairman.

The hall was fairly full, and the debate was conducted with decency and order, except for an insignificant group of Anti-Suffragists in the back pews who were by way of interrupting Mrs. Billington-Greig with foolish cries, and had the grace to accept the reproof of the Chairman.

The debate tended to turn more particularly on the views of the debaters as to the best theory of Government, considerable reference being made on both sides to India under British rule, and more of the time was taken up with the personal views of the debaters on Imperialism past and present than the immediate question of the effect of women's vote on National and Imperial Government.

The special contention put forward by Miss Pott on this topic was that the mothering instinct of women, whether married or unmarried, tended to concentrate their attention on details rather than on such large issues.

This was countered by Mrs. Billington-Greig, who looked to the mothering instinct, coupled with larger opportunities and outlook, not merely to cover the home circle, but to embrace sister nations and subject races to their infinite benefit.

The excellent Chairman made a good guess at the first show of hands that the voting was a near thing. When it came to counting, our friends the enemy went home with five votes to the good.

WORK AT DUNMOW.

The old town of Dunmow, which, by reason of its Flitch ceremony, might be supposed to have a special interest in the treatment of women, has been lately assailed by Suffrage advocacy to a degree which must perplex it somewhat. The other week a leading Conservative allowed Mrs. Robert Hobbs (National Union) to speak at a garden party. One of our members, Mr. J. W. Robertson-Scott ("Home Counties") took the chair for her and spoke at her open-air meeting a few days later, and also from the van of the Women's Freedom League, which was encamped on the Downs for three days. Mrs. Morris (W.S.P.U.) has lately paid the town a visit and has planned a canvassing campaign. Miss Coyle, who has been working in the Midlands, is endeavouring to form a Society. The Countess of Warwick and other local residents are sympathetic. Such activity in an out-of-the-way place like Dunmow gives some notion and possibilities in other provincial market towns.

LITERATURE.

THE remarkable success of the "Open letter to Mr. Asquith," which the League published some months ago, has compelled the Committee to issue a revised version, bringing up to date the suffragist claim for the Conciliation Bill. The work of revision has been entrusted to Messrs. Laurence Housman, R. F. Cholmeley and J. Arthur Price. The result of their efforts is an incontrovertible statement of our case, not merely from the point of view of the Suffrage Societies, but also from that of the great body of social workers who are competent to express an opinion upon the wider issues of the Women's Suffrage Cause.

It has the great advantage of reporting the resolutions of a great number of ordinary political, municipal, and industrial organizations, which, as such, have no specific connexion with women's suffrage.

The Hon. Secretary's pamphlet, containing striking testimony from the great Colonial Governors, who assembled at the Colonial Conference this year, is proving most valuable to speakers and organizers all over the country. Our stock is being rapidly reduced, and early application is desirable.

OBITUARY.

It is with great regret that we record the death of Stanley V. Makower, the musical critic and novelist. He has been in ill-health for some years, and has not been able to give us personal assistance, but he was one of the earliest to join the League.

The cause of women has lost a splendid advocate in Mrs. Ramsay Macdonald, whose death occurred ten days ago. Last month has also seen the death of the brilliant Irish leader, Miss Anna Parnell, herself also a keen supporter of women's suffrage. It was she, almost more than her more famous brother, who brought the land agitation so prominently before the public.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

A large picture of Miss Florence Nightingale, replica of the one exhibited at the National Gallery, beautifully coloured and mounted is now being sold by the Men's League for Women's Suffrage.
