Dear Lady Emmott,

If nothing beyond a modest subscription is involved in being a patron of the flower fair, I shall be glad to be one.

If work is involved or even a conviction that the present moment is the right one to press for equal pay (about the principle I have of course no doubts) then please excuse me! I don't quite know whether I shall be in London at the time, but I don't suppose that matters. Anyhow for Ph: Strachey's sake I like to be associated with the L.N.S.W.S.

Yours sincerely,

Margery Fry
