My dear W^{ro} Fawcett

Thanks much for your letter of yesterday enclosing one from Miss Currey. I entirely share Miss Currey's views ~~in the matter~~, and the best proof I can give you of the fact is that in about twelve hours from the moment when I am writing I shall be on my way to the West of Ireland. I am looking forward with the greatest interest and pleasure to my tour, as I have never yet met an Irishman with whom personal intercourse did not, so far as I am concerned, ^{behind it} leave agreeable recollections. I am very anxious also to see the country, though I need hardly say I am not such a fool as to suppose that anything material will be added to the information with which I am already liberally supplied from all quarters as to the condition of ^{the West of} Ireland.

Yours very sincerely

AM Jun Belfer
