

The Maharani of Bhavnagar - outstanding figure among India's Ruling Houses for many years - been feminist - abandoned the purdah & obtained a excellent education - keen re-modeller of administration - especially in the planning & extending of education of women & girls & medical & sanitary progress.

Edited a weekly Gujarati paper during first world war to convey accurate news to her people - distributed in thousands among general public & Indian troops

Supervised hospital nursing establishments for the wounded

Wrote biography - Lady Hardinge - Lord Kitchener Speeches of Lloyd George - Consented to become a member of the Society of Women Journalists, London.
