Dearest Mellie

Goodbye dear Mellie dearest love to
I tried our
I tried our
Adelmy
Emily

This so sweet of you to write about me - I am nearly quite well now & can do everything I want to do if I do it slowly. My heart went wrong owing to a severe cold & cough etc. but it is as usual now & will be quite strong very soon now that the blessed sun shines once more. - I have been staying with some dear

Suffrage friends who lived at Bawley now live at Saxmundham - every day we went to Aldburgh or Southwold or Lowestoft or Orford sat in the sun beside the sea in that divine air; would any others keep its hold here! such wonderful air as you know with such colours. I was perfectly happy.

We have had very severe frosts still have rather bad ness - no digging is possible yet, so naturally I had a cold etc. - but Emily is well & the mounds attacked & flea were very mild -

I am so sorry to hear you have had so many years know how ill - of Thelipka's share - but how else best to reach the best of it.

You will come town sometime this year won't you please?

- I am going to Washington in May for a Women's International Conference - & feel so tremendously excited - I have never been to U.S.A. - though I would rather see more of Europe & something of the East, still when one is elected as a delegate & some of the expenses paid, it is nice to see some the less interesting places in the world, & Washington will be more interesting than New York.

Your 'What I remember' in the N. L. interest truly & we so much & we look forward to it every week. I believe we

P.S. What you say about the Labour Party & comparing the situation in 1867 interests me so much. I am greatly moved when I think that the Labour men I have known so well like Swensen are in power.
But I hear from him in particular, how immense their difficulties are - both amongst their own M.Ps & constituents of the other Parties. Also, as in the case of Leads, their unreformed makes things hard.

I feel Miss Bondfield is a great asset.

I like so much to hear what you think about it.
After Washington is over I shall be sometime or other in London & will write to you in case you will let me come & see you
