

TELEGRAMS THACKERAY LONDON
TELEPHONES MUSEUM 1230-1231

May 3. 1917

AL/2024

THACKERAY HOTEL

(OPPOSITE THE BRITISH MUSEUM)

GREAT RUSSELL STREET

LONDON

My dear Madam,

I was grateful to my friend Mr. Street, & yourself, for sending me the volume, with the whole scheme & argument of which I heartily agree, & almost with every sentence. I should value the privilege of someday

having a talk with you about the whole question. How much

I should gladly say, and as gladly see published: viz that the little volume is a bright & vigorous statement of the demand that Women's place in the Church requires immediate and cordial reconsideration, especially in the Church of England, in view of altered place which woman now takes (and rightly takes) in the social life of our Country. This argument is waged with complete candour, and with moderation and reverence.

Believe me

Yours truly

Edward. Smith.