My dear Pippa

I was at Goshing's yesterday, & the young gentleman there told me he had been unable to get either your or Peruel's pensions to the 31st March, because you had not sent him the "declarations" saying you are still alive & "pucca spins".

I don't know whether you understand that the declaration has to be signed and dated by you each quarter; the only thing the power of attorney business gets you off is having the certificate signed by a Magistrate.

I enclose 2 declaration forms, in case you haven't got any by you, as Godling seemed rather distressed about not having yet received them - though whether on his own account or because he thought you must be starting, I don't know.

Jimbean, by way of catching the Cornish Riviera Express at 10.30 at Paddington to go on a visit to Lavington, has just left the house at 10.10 in an aged 4-wheeler with decrepit horse.

I am going back by the 2.10 from Waterloo, but shall allow myself several hours to catch it; I came up on Tuesday evening, & got through a certain amount of business yesterday.

There doesn't seem to be any special news.

I hope the New Forest is doing you both a lot of good.

Your affectionate brother
Dick.
