My dear Lady Emmott,

It is very difficult to refuse any request of your's, and if my name will be of any use to you as Patron of the Flower Fair to be held on the 27th May, then by all means use it. I am afraid, however, that I cannot offer to help in any way. I am so terribly overworked and the calls on our purse are so heavy, but no doubt you will send me particulars nearer the time, and if I can look in I will do so.

Mum love

Yours
