Dear Miss Bompass,

I shall have to beg your indulgence. I have not been very well, and it has been extremely difficult to get things done.

But I have been thinking about your request in regard to the meeting on June —

My difficulty is this. The militant or adult suffragists.

Of course you know that that is largely the case. — Just now I seem to have almost no personal contact with the workers, but I will do what I can. Will you let me have some notices before Sunday — 50?

There is always an opportunity for distribution in Regent's Park on a Sunday afternoon. & some of the people access of Queen's Hall. The poor people lying in the great ring around London proper have so little the habit of coming to the Centre, & the women look at their peace -

I suppose we can't do anything through the Women's Trades Union League?

Yours sincerely

I am afraid our letters in regard to reception crossed, & that I did not answer, feeling I had already done so, It was the day I could not keep my promise. My unfortunate.
