Dear Mrs. Cavendish Bentinck,

Thank you so very much for your delightful correspondence, which it has given me very great joy to read. I cannot think how you ever got into his house; it was extremely clever of you and quite well worth doing. Your letters are first-rate and to the point, and I do hope he read them, though I suppose he did not. I wish we could have published the whole correspondence, it is so very amusing.

Wishing you a very happy New Year,

Yours very sincerely,

Ernest Sharp
Assistant Editor.
