Dear Madam,

In answer to your letter received this morning, of course we intend to keep to our undertaking to pay the fares, where necessary, of the working-women who attended the Queen's Hall Meeting. We thought this had already been done in every instance where the fares had been asked for, and we are therefore very much surprised and sorry at the contents of your letter.

Will you kindly let me have at once the name and address of the Secretary of your Guild, so that I may arrange the matter with her without delay. To save you further trouble I am sending you a paper to fill in with a stamped envelope for reply.

I am, dear Madam,

Yours truly,

E. Dunock
