Dear Sir,

In answer to your letter of enquiry, received today, I write to say that my picture of
"Quatre Bras" is in Melbourne, Australia.

"The Dawn of Waterloo" is in my own possession.

"Scotland for Ever" is at present being exhibited at the International Exhibition in Dublin; "The Remnants of an Army" is at the Great Gallery, Thames Embarkment, London.

"Balaklava" is in the Manchester Town Hall

"In Rottmann" is a private house, the whereabouts of which I do not know.

"Steady the Drum & Pipes" at the Mess of the 5th (Middlesex Regt) at the Horse Lane Regimental

Osipöt. A very good photograph of this last picture is published by Messrs Goupil & Co, 256 Bedford Street.

I am interested to know that Colonel Ingles was an ancestor of yours

Thanking you for your kind letter
I remain, dear Sir

Yours very truly
Chas. P. Butler
