Stuttgart. Neue Weinstraße 31.
March. 23, 1883.

You will wonder not yet to have heard from me, but though I get inquiries on foot at once, I have not yet learnt anything. It is difficult for me to get at anybody here, and in this cold weather I dare not go out myself. However I hope eventually to furnish you with some statistics both from Leipzig and Stuttgart, or at least from one of these places, and will then also answer you letter at large.
