Dear Pippa,

Many thanks for the biscuits & sweets. There is nothing whatever to say.
The other day M^{rs} Louvestre took off M. Larpent most splendidly at tea, we all went into fits. It was very amusing. Many thanks also for the gloves which I wanted for the dancing class on Friday evening. I have got rather a cold, so could not go to church this morning.

Mr. Bruce, the clergyman is most extraordinary. We generally have rather a short service. I got a letter from Lytton the other day; he seemed quite gay.

I am afraid I must now stop. Please give my love to the family & tell Mamma that I will write to her next Sunday. Did you get any Valentines yesterday?

I did not. ² One girl got an enormous box of chocolates.

Farewell

thy loving

Pen.
