

London Working Women Meeting

AL/2795

April 22, 1911

Dear Madam,

We are arranging to hold a meeting of London Working Women at the Queen's Hall on the evening of Friday, June 2. This meeting has not yet been publicly announced, but I am writing to tell you of it at once as I think it will be of interest to you. We much hope you will be able to help us by bringing a party, and I should be very glad to receive any hint from you as to the most convenient hour for your women or on any other practical point.

It is hoped to make the meeting one of industrial, not professional women, and it is thought that this will be a new departure and in London and one of considerable importance. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Henry Fawcett and Mr. Lansbury. We will write again later, or perhaps it would suit you better if we were to send someone to meet you and talk over details about payment of fares, etc.
