Dear Miss Strachey,

I am so very glad you approve of the edition of our Philip's Poems. It has certainly cost me a good deal of work, but nothing could be too much to carry out his wishes and as far as possible to commemorate so lovable a nature.

He was for so many years by far my best friend.

Do please come at once to speak to me if we are at the same gathering, as, for instance, at the P.E.N. Club dinner if you both belong. I have a terrible amount of meetings and speaking to do, but I avoid as much as I can.

With kind regards,

Yours very sincerely,

Henry W. Nevinson
