Dear Miss Becker,

I must apologise for not having sooner answered your note, asking for an interview - I was only in town for a night, and did not know when I was likely to come up again; and I waited till I could see my way a little. I do not think you would gain anything by moving till the elections are over. I shall be very happy to see you afterwards.

Probably I shall be in town the greater part of the week after next.

Believe me

Yours faithfully

J. D. D. W. J.
