

Alleswood

4852

29th January 1891

Dear Pippa,

I had my first

Italian lesson on Tuesday it was a great success. I have my lesson with another girl Therese Bauer (the Austrian) who has learnt one term. I am just on the point of settling what I shall be for the Bal Masque but I cannot get inform you though I think I shall be a man. Do you think you can come? I hope you will be invited.

To ho unne getto. This is all I can think of ~~it~~ as it is not true it is rather pointless. I was nearly asleep the other night when your letter came; thank you very much for it. This evening in our history class

M^{lle} Souvestre read us a fascinating scene out of the Femmes Savantes; it was most amusing. Violet Croak is going to be Cleopatra I think it will be very good. Sweets are allowed here (Hum!) The Russes came to-day. I am reading "La maison de Per-arvan". We have to read 20 pages a day & make a list of the words we don't understand It's a great bore. I have no more to say except that our room was one of the only two tidy ones in the house this afternoon to be shown to visitors. Ha ha!

Ever thine

Perrel.

Fawcett Library
27 Wilfred Street
London S.W.1.

988