Dear Sir,

Kindly accept my hearty condolence on account of your recent bereavement at this hour. We all know how busy and anxious and worried you are now on account of political activities, mostly for the sake of us, the Indians. A personal loss of this nature at this juncture can not be too highly appraised. Let us hope our sympathy at this time with your bereavement may afford you some relief and consolation. Let us all pray for the salvation of her mighty soul, and a healthy and active life to you, this sad grief notwithstanding.

I remain.

My dear Lansbury,

Allow me to offer you my deepest sympathy in your great loss. I know what your dear wife has been to you through-out your long service to the Nation as the Champion of the Poor. I know what a difference it has made to you, to have behind the fore-ground of your most noble service to the Nation, the back-ground of a happy family life, and the loving sympathy of an understanding heart. And now it must seem to you as though half the back-ground of your life has fallen away. Never mind. It will only be for a little time, before you are re-united to your loving wife. And she is safe and happy in the keeping of our dear Lord.

I dare not say more for fear of intruding on your grief

My dear G.L.

I feel I just must send you a note to bring you all my sympathy & thoughts. though please don't think of answering or taking any notice of it. I keep on thinking how wonderful it must be to have the memories of that you must have of such a perfect life together. & I wish I had known Mrs Lauby.

I know your splendid courage & unselfishness will carry you through. My love to Daisy please. & if I can do anything to help either of you do let me know.

Yrs with most real sympathy. Queen Hill

Dear Mr Sansbury-

My most heart felt condolences on the death of your wife.

As a widow of 16 years standing I know what the loneliness means; though you will have much comfort in the memories of your long years of married happiness
I do hope her end was peaceful

Yours sincerely

Dear George Lansbury,

I must send you a line of heartfelt sympathy in your hour of suffering and bereavement.

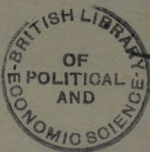

We must all face these terrible partings some time but when they do come - what anguish!

The Movement owes you a lot; perhaps too it owes a lot to she who is gone, more than it will ever know.

Don't trouble to reply.

Yours affectionately,

Thomas Johnston

My Dear Mr Lansbury

I am only one of thousands who condole with you in your sad bereavement. But I feel I must give vent to my heartfelt sympathy. Fifteen months ago I lost my own beloved wife. so I know what the ordeal is like. I am glad to know the truth will sustain you throughout.

My elder brother knew you very well in Bow over 30 years ago. he died some ten years ago.

We lived in Bow for years.

May the blessing of God rest upon you.

Yours truly
Arthur E. Massey (Rev.)
