You have our warmest sympathy in your loss — for loss of course it is in spite of the fact that one could not wish him to linger on when there was no hope of recovery. Edgar has meant a lot to you & has always stood by you in all your troubles. It makes another link on the other side & makes it more real. But I feel that it makes our little fights on this side so unreal in comparison. I don't express it well but I know you will get my meaning.

I have letters from Cardiff which I would have sent you, but they will keep till next week when I hope I may have the chance of five minutes with you.

much love from the Lamb & myself & Rhoda wishes her sympathy to be sent too.

AND GENERAL MANAGER.

29th May, 1935.

George Lansbury Esqre., P.C., M.P., 39, Bow Road,
BOW, E.3.

Dear Mr. Lansbury,

It was with a great shock that I read of your sad bereavement, and would convey to you the deep sympathy that is felt by the whole of the staff and myself.

It seems very hard that we should lose one who has done so much for Poplar, but we must accept what fate decrees and hope that the work he did for others will be carried on.

May I beg of you, however, to take great care of yourself and I feel sure you will, knowing that you will accept this blow with the fortitude that has predominated when so many other adversities have arisen against you.

Yours very sincerely,

Robert Illingworth
Borough Electrical Engineer and General Manager.

Dear Country,

Mr. Roberts and I went to see you on the very early - the summer of your presence in the first place the has come to you. I had seen something of the matter, and we was looking forward to seeing more of each other ... I'm very glad

I did pick him up you all the time you, to whom as I know

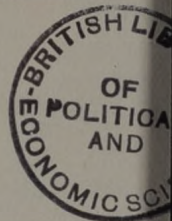

I shouldn't have done the sort of man he had grown in. I believe that he had no more doubt than you have with me is the strongest and strongest thing. You will be upheld by God's faith, & enabled to help the cause

Yours ever

Dear Mr. Lansbury,

I was very grieved to learn from the papers this morning of your great sorrow. I am only sending a line to express to you, in the inadequate language one uses at these sad times, my deepest and most sincere sympathy.

Yours sincerely

My dear General

My wife and I, as old friends wish to express our condolences with you on the loss of your son. The sympathy of friends can only be a very slight consolation in such a time, but such as it is, you have it all and from great multitudes for whom you have fought so long.

Yours very truly

Dear old Comrade:

I hesitate to add to your post bag this morning, but the sad news of the passing of your dear Edgar + my old Comrade compels me to send a line today how very much our hearts, here, go out to you + yours at this time.

It will hit you hard, old friend I know, but like the brave old warrior that you are, you will be able to look up + carry on.

God be with you + all of you.

This, you will know is no cant phrase

on my part, & will be, I know, a real comfort, on yours.

My first thought was to come & give a cheering & comforting word, but you will have so many
I will refrain.

This is a time when even the many burdens you are carrying will be a blessing.
There is consolation in ^{an} activity which, alas! I miss just now.

Still you will know that throughout the land, thousands will be saying "God bless & comfort our old Gray & family."

Lovingly Yours
Frank.
