A mixed street, but the majority are fairly destitute, how they live is a mystery - houses in some cases are old fashioned & very large let out in tenements - a celebrated place for pigeons, quite 70 "doovers" on the tops of the houses, & over 100 people keep pigeons in this street - there are probably other children but Mr. Matthews can't get information about them - this act appears to be exaggerated.

A wretchedly poor neighbourhood. The large houses were built for weavers, & are now very much out of repair, the lower part being in a very bad condition. They are crowded with very poor migratory families, & many of the children remain unscheduled & utterly neglected, the Visitor confessing himself quite unable to cope with the work. The amount of poverty & ignorance existing in this locality is startling.

This street runs from Bethnal Green Rd to Hare St. The two ends of the street are a great contrast, the north part (lower numbers) being nice houses - some nearly new - & inhabited by people in resp. & comp. circles. The south end (higher numbers) contains some exceedingly bad houses, particularly Nos. 67 & 69 (odd) & 60 to 70 (even) - old, dark, dilapidated, & filthy, & crowded with a wretchedly poor & low lot, mostly thieves. These houses have about 6 rooms & 2 cellars (sometimes inhabited). Rents are 3/6 for front rooms; 2/6 back.

Rest of Selater Street is taken up by Huntingdon Bldgs, Warehouses, &c. A noted place for bird shops. There is quite a live stock fair on Sunday mornings. The houses are very old fashioned, & large, the rooms over the shops being let in tenements to a poor class of people.

Butler's Buildings - a wretched dirty court - people nearly all in a destitute condition, & mostly Jews. Poken little dens, for wh. they pay 3/- rent when they like. Landlord can't do anything with them, for they've no furniture worth taking, & if one family is ejected, another of the same class comes in. A safe refuge for criminals, who are received into the houses as a matter of course by the inhabitants, & easily elude their pursuers. A cul-de-sac.

Carter St - Nos. 12 to 18 are old weavers houses. They contain 3 floors, or originally there was only one very large, lofty room on each floor, capable of holding 6 looms. They are now partitioned off into 2 or 3 compartments, each floor being let to a separate family at 5/- a week. Some of the people let part of their rooms for weavers to stand their looms, for which they get 1/- a week.

 (This house is in a Wood yard, where the man works)

A nice, wide street. The houses are old & irregular. On the odd number side they are mostly little places, & all have long gardens, wh. are largely used for storing coster's barrows. These houses are being gradually pulled down, & by houses, covering the gardens, erected in their places.

A wide, clean, & very resp. street. People are, with rare exceptions, working class in good employment. The houses are in great demand, & the inhabitants crowd in rather, in order to live in the street. Many of the tenants will not take lodgers who have children.

are very nice new houses, let in tenements, the people, with one exception, being in envy circles. The Visitor is never allowed to go upstairs (altho' there are fully 4 families in each house) & has to take the word of the person who happens to answer the door as to whether there are children or not.

A rather poor class. A lot of little old houses in a delapidated condition. Many are small closed shops, with one room over. These shops, in some cases, are too much out of repair to be used for any purpose, & the shutters are never taken down.

A very narrow turning at the back of Bethnal Green Rd. a filthy, wretched place, & the depository of all the refuse of the neighbourhood. Some of the buildings are so dilapidated as to be impossible as habitations, & are used by people in Bethnal Green Rd as stables, lofts, etc., while the thoroughfare is blocked by vans, & refuse of Mr. Raymond, Greenport, Bethnal Green Rd. A most disgraceful state of things. Building has now begun, so there is some hope of its being swept away. Adjoins Thomas's passage, which is very dunghill.

Note. - Mr. Matthews' district is undoubtedly a poor one, & difficult to deal with, containing bad spots & large old crowded houses the sanitary & other arrangements of which are unsatisfactory; but a walk over the district does not give one the impression that such a wretched state of things exists as is noted in this book.
