Dear Miss Surry,

Thank you very much for your letter of the 2nd. November, & for the list of papers concerning M. A. Blagg now in the Library. I can assure you I had not received it before!

I am sorry to say that I have just discovered a mistake I made in the manuscript "Life." It is a Crater on the moon that is named after her, not a Mountain! I found this in an old newspaper cutting, & it is confirmed in a map of the moon published last year on page 8 of the typescript? I do apologise for the slip -

With many thanks,

Yours sincerely,
