Dearest Philippine,

You must come on Tuesday. I shall go to bed if you don't. M^{re} Louvestre wanted to know if Meg's might come? Do you think she would be allowed to in her Phil? Hester Ritchie is coming also the Beales, Debenhams, Ida & Hilda & Beatrice Chamberlain. I saw Beatrice yesterday & though I was under her nose she didn't recognise me. M^{lle} Lowestre is rather annoyed because you have not answered.

She says she objects to being treated "légèrement." Please encuse a half sheet & don't forget my bickies. Bethie gave me a long account of the dance. She told me about your lovely sprag & that Dorothy looked charming & that Dick plyed her (B) with champagne & mortally offended Margie Frere; also that my idiotic remark about the cat has furnished conversation for the family for the last month! I am furious. You must come.
I have told everyone Miss Strachey ^{is coming} in a beautiful dress so don't fail me. P.P.S. Please give love to Ralph in your next.
