

The Times.

1785

A2/1137

Dear Mrs. Fawcett,

I make a rule to speak as rarely as possible. I am one of those people who believe that newspaper controllers should stick to their presses. I am very satisfied with what has happened (except the ridiculous age limit) and I therefore would rather not speak. I am only hopeful that your friends will accept what they can get now, and ask for further extension in the future.

Yours sincerely,

W. A. C. C. C.

Mrs. Fawcett.

5th Feb. 1917.