

LONDON OFFICE
TELEPHONE VICTORIA 7983.

NESTLEWOOD,
BAYLEY'S HILL,
SEVENOAKS, KENT.
TELEPHONE (TOLL) WEALD 70.

October 23rd., 1936

Dear Miss Myers,

I cannot tell you how grateful I was, both for what you said on Sunday and for your letter. I feel very much honoured by the message from the secretary of your Coordinating Committee. It means a great deal to me to feel that I should have helped, even by a very little link in the great chain, to bind together "all men everywhere who seek the face of God". I think however that I ought not to accept the offer to print my sermon. I think such a bit of work should be done by Christians who, in this matter, are so deeply to blame. I will write and tell him this and I feel sure you will all understand. On the other hand, I think it might be quite a good thing if my address might be published in the "Jewish Chronicle", if it is not, as I fear it will be, much too long? In any case I will send the <sup>manuscript</sup> typescript to the secretary. (You give me his address but not his name?)

I have not yet received the books that you are sending, but I know I shall be deeply interested. Thank you so very much.

Your suggestion about a speaker at the Guildhouse I will forward at once to the little committee who arranges our afternoon conferences.

Yours gratefully,

A. Inaudi Boydell