

W.P.S.

Platform - no

Dear Sir F. Pollard AL/912

21 Hyde Park Place W.
22 vi 1910

I regret that I have an engagement of long standing for the evening of the 28th.

May keep the practical argument to the point.
That working women want votes for just the same reasons that working men do.
It is very fine for superior women who can write to the Times and have their letters in large print to say they don't want votes.
That is quite natural and quite irrelevant.
- As for imperial affairs we do not trust men - at large - to manage them. We trust the electorate to pick out, indirectly and on the whole, the right men: and I don't see why a mixed electorate should do it any worse.

N.W.
DM
210
~~POST~~

LONDON.W.
~~CARD~~

12. 5 DM

1111 02 10

Miss Philippa Strachey

London Society for Women's Suffrage

58 Victoria Street

Westminster
S.W.

Fawcett Library
27 Wilfred Street
London S.W.1.

6960