

I am

that with me at Birkbeck tho' I have mislaid it somewhere. Are there any books or pamphlets left with you in the young little bottles. Perhaps it would be as well to send me them if you can without too much trouble.

Your letter is so much too dear - spoiling, I write

AL 3608 GVT

don't know how to thank you for it.

I wish I could talk
the prison - feeding business with you.

Of course I feel the whole punitive business so fundamentally wrong.

But the fact remains that the ^{dangerous} criminal, from no matter what cause

must be separated from the general public.

Amongst sane criminals
I believe the genuine hunger strike is very rare unless with those if they are to die it seems to me absurd not to let them condemned to death. But of for any reason forcible feeding was the torture it certainly was to me & several of the others, I don't believe the ^{hunger-strike} could be maintained for self interest only.

However that maybe, there is summary suicide if they so choose.
