Dear Mrs. Simock

The Conference in the House of Commons is fixed for Wednesday 14th at 3pm, which exactly clashes with (Central) our organization sub-committee. What do you think we'd better do? Can we shift the hour of the sub-committee to a later one? I hardly think so, do you, as the length of the Conference is uncertain & the urgent matters to attend to instantly in consequence of it (announcement for press etc) also uncertain. I incline to think the org. will have to miss a meeting, don't you? As your sub-committee has seen to urgent matters perhaps it is of less consequence. Edith Palliser is away & I don't want to call her back to settle a trifle like this, but as I've been out of things lately shd. like of moral support in having notices sent round to abandon the Committee. The Central Executive will of course receive a summons to the House of Commons Conference.

Y. very sincerely
Frances Starling.
