The Infirmary,
Holloway Prison.

January 9th, 1913.

If I can post this I want to thank you and all those kind ones who sang to us last night. Speaking for myself (as I have not seen the other prisoners), it helped to give me courage when I was feeling a wee bit "down-hearted". I could hear every word you sung and shouted. To-night I shall have joined the hunger-strikers after I hear my sentence. Sing lots of Marseillaise.
