My dear Pernel,

I gather from Pippa that you are staying at Cambridge for some time. I wondered whether you would feel like inviting Ellie for a visit of a week or so. She has not been away for a very long time, & I think she feels the need of a change. She works very hard all the time in house & garden, & the cares of empire rest upon her. But her health has much improved in every way, I think. Our domestic situation, which has been much embroiled now seems to be clarified, at any rate for the moment.

Pippa is coming here for Easter, & I ^{think} am ~~sure~~

Ellie will like to be here for her, but after that I should think it would be all right.

Pippa was here last week end, looking very tired. She is certainly leading a very unsuitable life, but I suppose nothing can be done about it.

Love from all here.

MCS.
