2 Somerset. March 5.

My dear Lady Frances,

I am going to speak at the London Society's At Home this afternoon & shall say frankly what I think of the W S & P's recent proceedings. We have (what I mean) so repeatedly passed formal resolutions setting forth our disapproval of violence of all kinds that I am not inclined to do it over again.

Our last resolution was passed at the special Council meeting last December. There is some thing rather ~~rather~~ ridiculous in saying we opposed violence in December & we still oppose it in March. But I suppose

We must consider the subject of our Sex: Com: on Thursday next.

I never believe in the possibility of a Sex war. Nature has seen after that, as long as nations have sons & fathers, daughters there can never be a Sex war.
What draws men & women together is stronger than the brutality & tyranny of conditions them apart. I am for going on with all our work just as before. If we are mobbed on our meetings ^{wrecked} it won't harm our cause.

Always yours affectionately

W. Fawcett
