Dear Miss Treacher,
many thanks for your kind note.
I feel that I must come up on Saturday whatever happens; though I can't pretend that my cough has entirely vanished. But it would annoy me much less to go on coughing till Christmas than to have the vote about bye election policy for the wrong way I am horrified to find that I haven't sent back this. It does not strike me as an effusion of great genius but I can see no reason against its being sung at the café chantant

Many apologies for not-posting it on sooner.

Very truly yours
Clementina Black
