Dear Mrs Lees.

I thought it so very good of you writing to tell me that you had one in remembrance at this time. I need say little to those who have themselves trodden this path in life. There is none other that is like it, nor is there any likeness which can compare with it.

I have just come back to London, I am trying to get ready to begin work, which is the best help left in this world -

It seems so long long ago since I was with you, & yet I was anxious then!
Thank you, Believe me
Yrs grate full
